Mr. Harrison Gives the Tree a Vigorous Shake.

WHITELAW REID GOES TO PARIS

Startling Developments Cause the Withdrawal of an Important Nomination—Mr. Harrison Declares There Will Be No Broken Pledges.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—President Harrison has sent the following nominations to the senate:

John R. McFie, of New Mexico, to be associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico.

Frank B. Aikens, of Dakota, to be associate justice of the supreme court of Dakota.

Smith A. Whitfield, of Ohio, second assistant postmaster-general.

Abraham G. Hazen, of Pennsylvania, third assistant postmaster-general.

Samuel R. Thayer, minister to the Netherlands.

William W. Thomas, jr., of Maine, minister to Norway and Sweden.

Whitelaw Reid, of New York, to be minister to France.

Julius Goldsmith, of Wisconsin, to be consul-general at Vienna.

THE ST. JAMES MISSION.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The mission to the court of St. James now seems to lie between Chauncey M. Depew and Senator Evarts, of New York. Depew can have it if he wants it, it is said, and is quite likely to accept. If he does not, Senator Evarts will probably be the man.

Senator Evarts says that the published story that he contemplates resigning his seat in the senate is not true.

The nomination of Corporal Tanner, of New York, to be commissioner of pensions will probably be sent to the senate to-morrow.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In executive session this afternoon the senate confirmed the nomination of Elbert D. Weed, district attorney for Montana.

Army appointments—Ordnance department: Lieutenant-Colonel Adelbert R. Buffington to be colonel; Major Joseph P. Farley, to be lieutenant-colonel; Captain Otto E. Michaelis, to be major. Medical department: Captain Julius H. Patzki, to be surgeon, with the rank of major. First regiment of artillery: First Lieutenant [illegible] to be captain; Second Lieutenant Charles H. Hunter to be first lieutenant.

Postmaster: James M. Kellogg, Wickes, Montana.

A NOMINATION WITHDRAWN

The Senate Committee's Reasons for Opposing Eugene Schuyler.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The president to-day withdrew from the senate the nomination of Eugene Schuyler to be assistant secretary of state, which was made on the 12th instant. It is learned that the committee on foreign relations, after consideration of the case, asked that the nomination be withdrawn, coupling the request, it is understood, with an intimation that otherwise it would be reported adversely. This action was taken on account of an assault made by Schuyler in his book entitled "American Diplomacy" upon Elihu B. Washburn, reflecting upon his official conduct while secretary of state, together with reflections upon the administration of President Grant and the senate, and also, it is said, on account of a charge affecting Schuyler's personal conduct in Europe.

Senator Edmunds recently discovered, it is said, that Schuyler had made an earnest effort to be made assistant secretary of state under Mr. Bayard at the start of the democratic administration. He was strongly endorsed to Bayard as a man of letters, a trained diplomatist, and thoroughly familiar with the routine of office. It was reported that while Schuyler has generally passed for a republican, he really had no politics of the violent sort, but was a citizen of the world and more interested in diplomacy than in party.

This discovery regarding Schuyler was promptly communicated by Senator Edmunds to the committee on foreign affairs, and naturally caused a feeling of displeasure that they had come near confirming a man who had asked for office at the hands of the Cleveland administration. Schuyler's friends were told that the committee would feel obliged to report his name adversely. They cabled the fact to him, and he cabled back to have his name withdrawn.

It is not known to-night who will be assistant secretary of state. Walker Blaine has been occupying the desk since his father entered the state department, and in default of other available men, it may be necessary to transfer him there from his place as examiner of claims.

RECENT APPOINTMENTS

Brief Biographical Sketches of the Favored Few Office Seekers.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Captain Morse, who was to-day appointed private secretary to Secretary Proctor, graduated from Cornell University in 1879, and, until recently, has been actively engaged in the management of the large marble interests controlled by Proctor. He is also a member of the bar.

John R. McFie, associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico, lives at Las Cruces, and is spoken of as an excellent lawyer. He has been a resident of the territory for many years.

Andrew C. Bradley, who was nominated to be judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, is a life long resident of Washington. He graduated from the Harvard law school in 1867, and has been engaged in the practice of law in this city ever since.

J. Lowrie Bell, who was yesterday appointed general superintendent of the railway mail service, is 50 years of age and was born in Reading, Pa. In his 18th year he entered the service of the Philadelphia & Reading as a clerk in the freight department. After several years' effective service he was advanced to the position of general freight agent, and served in that capacity until 1880, when he was made general traffic manager of the Philadelphia & Reading system, and served until March 1, 1888, when at the expiration of the receivership of the road, he withdrew from its service, and has since been engaged in looking after the railroad and coal interests of other parties. He has always been a staunch republican in politics. His intimate knowledge of the railroad business renders his appointment to the general superintendency of the railway mail service one of peculiar fitness. He took the necessary oath late this afternoon, and will enter upon his new duties to-morrow.

Frank B. Aikens, who has been nominated to the supreme bench of Dakota, has been a resident of that territory for a number of years. His present address is Canton, Dakota. He is a lawyer of good repute and was recommended for the office by Governor Mellette, Delegate Gifford and many members of the legislature.

NO BROKEN PROMISES

The President Declines to Make Promises Regarding Which There is Doubt.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The other day the president made up his mind to appoint a man who did not want to file his application papers unless he was promised an appointment. After pressing his claim very persistently and showing his good reasons why he did not want to place his papers on file unless there was a specific promise of the place, the applicant was about to withdraw from the presence of the president, saying as he did so that he could not afford to make a record of his aspirations while there was the slightest probability of his appointment not being made.

"You may put your papers on file," said the president, "and I assure you that I will give them very early action. Just what I will do you cannot learn at this time. I have made up my mind that I shall make no promises. I do not propose to have people going around on the streets saying I lied about appointments or any thing else, as in the administration of Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Cleveland. One could meet men almost any where about Washington declaring the president had lied to them, that he had promised them places and had not kept his pledge. I am determined this thing shall never be said of me."

This rule is being applied in the departments and occasions some friction with congressmen.

APPOINTMENT NOTES.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—John Russell Young appears as a formidable opponent of Fred Grant for the Chinese mission.

Mrs. Harrison has given publicity to the fact that she will pay no attention to solicitations to influence appointments to office. Yesterday she received sixty letters requesting help in that direction.

The California delegation does not appear to be harmonious in regard to the selections to offices of public trust.

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY

He Will Be Slow to Turn Out Efficient and Unobtrusive Democrats.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A Washington special to a democratic journal here says: The republican senators represent General Harrison as not disposed to proceed with unseemly haste in removing competent democratic officials, but he is determined, if they hold positions of use to the party, that they shall finally be replaced by republicans. His idea seems to be that postmasters, collectors of customs and other officials who come in contact with the people exert an influence by their position in favor of the party to which they belong, and that the dominant party is entitled to what there is in this.

Where officials come less in contact with the people and perform their duties with unobtrusive fidelity, they will be allowed to continue in service without regard to politics. This will be the policy pursued in the consular service, although the demands of the organs for removal of the so-called free trade consuls will probably be complied with. Efficient consuls, who have not made themselves politically conspicuous, will be retained.

FOR NORTHWESTERN IMPROVEMENT.

The Expenditures Authorized by Congress at Its Last Session.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A complete statement of the expenditures authorized by congress for Northwest coast improvements during the next fiscal year is as follows:

For establishing a light ship with a steam fog signal to mark the bar at the mouth of the Columbia river, $60,000.

For the purchase of a site and the construction of a first order light [illegible] Head [illegible] the mouth of the [illegible] river, $80,000.

For connecting the Tillamook Rock light station by telegraph cable and land telegraph line with Fort Stevens (Fort Adams) Oregon, $6000.

For the establishment and maintenance of a [illegible] station at or near Point Barrow, Alaska, $1,000.

Provision is made out of the general fund for the maintenance of post lights on the Columbia and Willamette rivers, and on Puget sound and adjacent waters to aid navigation.

For continuing the survey of the coast of Oregon and to continue the survey of the Columbia river from the mouth of the Willamette towards the Cascades, $1[illegible].

For continuing the survey of the coast of Washington territory, $[illegible].

For continuing exploration in the waters of Alaska, $10,000.

For continuing magnetic observations on the Pacific coast, $1,000.

For the Alaska boundary survey, $[illegible],500.

Provision is made out of the general fund for the maintenance of quarantine stations at San Francisco, San Diego and Port Townsend.

For the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law, $50,000.

For the industrial and primary education of children of school age in Alaska, $50,000.

For the support of the Indian school at Chemawa, Or., $56,000.

For the purpose of erecting and furnishing shops and fencing the grounds and for furnishing buildings for the Indian school in Ormsby county, Nevada, $10,000.

For establishing a life saving station and providing for a life saving crew at the mouth of the Coquille river, Oregon, $5000.

When the laws passed at the recent session are examined, it is found that California secured but one measure. This is the one law fixing the limit of cost for the purchase of a site for a building for a court house and a post-office at San Francisco at a cost of $800,000.

Oregon also secured but a single law. The measure directs the secretary of war to provide arms, ammunition and equipage for distribution among the militia organizations of the state.

Washington territory has a single law to its credit. It grants to the city of Tacoma a license to occupy, improve and control for the purpose of a public park certain lands in Pierce county, containing 630 acres.

A STATE DEPARTMENT SCANDAL.

How Bayard's Underling Copied Revolutionary Papers and Lined His Pocket.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—It transpires that eleven months ago President Cleveland sent to congress a brief message recommending the publication by the government of Washington's letters and other historical manuscripts now in the department of state. With the message the president sent a letter from Secretary Bayard setting forth the great importance of these papers and elaborating a plan for their publication.

When Blaine became secretary of state he promptly accepted the resignation of Worthington Chauncey Ford, chief of the bureau of consular reports. Ford is a Brooklyn man of some literary attainments. He entered the department under Bayard, and so well has he improved his time that he carries into private life the material for no less than fourteen large volumes of historical papers, copied from the manuscripts worth thousands of dollars. Before he became secretary Blaine was informed of what Ford had been doing, and this knowledge led to the change.

The burden of the scandal which will follow this exposure, will fall upon the late head of the department. Bayard permitted Ford to take copies of these Washington papers, understanding the use that was to be made of them. For two years past Ford has been engaged in the work, and the head department clerks have been making transcripts of the literary treasures.

So secure did Ford feel in possession of this property that he made contracts with a New York publishing house to get out the books, and now, within a week after he leaves the department he has announced the first of his fourteen volumes of Washington's papers.

In his letter of April, urging congress to publish these papers, Bayard expressly took the ground that the only proper way to get these manuscripts into print was to have the government do it. "The collections were purchased," said he, "with the public money and they belong to the people of the United States." And, yet, while Bayard was writing this, Ford was rushing bundle after bundle of these papers to his publishers.

"There is little doubt," said Bayard in his letter, "that the department of state has the largest and most complete collection of manuscripts in relation to the revolutionary period in the country. No one, who has not specially studied the period of the revolution and the first years of this government, can realize how many gaps are left unbridged and how many are the false ideas given by imperfect knowledge, or engendered by personal feeling. The rich stores of public and private papers in this department can alone solve these many difficulties."

Before entering upon the publication, Ford's publishers sent a circular to the librarians and others setting out their plan and asking for orders. In this way an edition of 700 sets at $5 a volume, or $70 a set, was sold before a page was printed. Ford and his publishers will divide the $49,000 to begin with.

IN THE CABINET

Discussion of the Advisability of Ousting a Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—One of the matters considered at the cabinet meeting to-day was the case of an Illinois postmaster whose removal was asked by one of the Illinois congressmen because of the postmaster's political activity. It was admitted by the congressman that the office was well managed and the matter was called to the attention of the cabinet so that the action in this case might constitute a precedent hereafter.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker said to-night that he did not feel at liberty to talk about what took place at the cabinet meeting.

There is reason to believe, however, that the result was adverse to the wishes of the Illinois congressman, but it is not known whether or not any fixed line of action in cases of this kind was determined upon.

REID'S APPOINTMENT

He Feels Flattered at the Distinction and Will Accept the Position.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A reporter for the Sun this evening saw Mr. Whitelaw Reid for a moment. Mr. Reid said that his nomination as minister to France came without solicitation on his part. He feels greatly honored by the distinction, and hopes it may be thought also a compliment to the profession whose good opinion and honor he values more than any office.

Mr. Reid added that he would certainly try to arrange his business so as to accept the appointment if confirmed.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

Meeting of Senate Committees.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—At a meeting of the senate committee on interstate commerce, arrangements were made for pursuing the investigation of Canadian matters ordered by the resolution of the senate of August 7, 1888. It was determined to meet in New York May 15. It is probable that before the summer is over the committee will go over the entire length of the Canadian Pacific road.

The special committee on Pacific railroads has arranged to make trips of six weeks duration over the lines of the Union and Central Pacific railroads, beginning April 6.

Gold Badges.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Five solid gold badges of a design identical with that adopted by the inaugural committee have been made as souvenirs of the event. The badges have been presented to President Harrison, Vice-President Morton, Chairman Britton of the inaugural committee, Chairman Wolf of the badge committee and Congressman Dudley Coleman of Louisiana.

Revenue Collections.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The collections of internal revenue for the first eight months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, were $83,364,[illegible], an increase of $[illegible] over the collections for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

NO APPEAL IN THIS CASE

A Justice of the Peace Who Can Not Be Overruled.

HE MARRIED A RUNAWAY COUPLE,

And the Young Lady is the Daughter of Chief Justice Fuller—Her Papa Consented but Her Mamma Said Nay.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Daily News' Milwaukee special says: Miss Pauline Fuller, fifth daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, was married to-night at the Kirby house by a justice of the peace. The groom was J. Matt Aubrey, jr., of Chicago, and it was a runaway match.

When the [illegible] St. Paul train arrived this evening, a [illegible] lady was helped off the [illegible] by a tall handsome young man with a smooth face. The lady was closely veiled and was escorted to a carriage by her companion. They were driven to the Kirby house where they registered. No room was assigned them and the lady and her escort spent the early evening in the hotel parlor. [illegible] so he winked knowingly [illegible] everything would be arranged. Justice of the Peace [illegible] arrived. There was a hurried consultation and then the young man brought the blushing young lady forward. The ceremony was a brief one and the justice, who is a very prompt gentleman, put on no extra frills. He did not know that the bride was a daughter of the chief justice of the United States, and neither did any of those who were present, outside of the contracting parties.

When the ceremony was concluded the old justice called for witnesses and young men were captured in the billiard room who ran to affix their signatures to the necessary documents.

The knot was legally and firmly spliced. The justice [illegible] and the young man slipped a bill into his hand and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey were escorted to the bridal chamber.

Mrs. Aubrey, nee Pauline Fuller, is 19 years of age, a highly educated and remarkably handsome woman.

J. Matt Aubrey is [illegible] years of age. He is the son of the general western agent of the Merchants' Dispatch fast freight line, J. M. Aubrey, sr., who has been a resident of Chicago since 1876, when he left for Milwaukee. He is well known here, and the groomsman, [illegible], son of the most intimate friend. Young Aubrey is employed in his father's office in Chicago. He is a handsome young fellow.

ORIGIN OF THE MATCH

As near as can be learned the acquaintance of the bride and groom began about three years ago. Justice Fuller, who was then plain Lawyer Fuller, lived with his wife and eight daughters on Lake avenue, only a short distance from the home of young Aubrey. The young people met first at a party given in the neighborhood. An attachment sprung up between them and when it became apparent it was opposed by the Fullers. Miss Paulina declared, however, that she would marry whom she pleased, and her father recognized her right to do as she pleased. Mrs. Fuller, however, vehemently opposed the match.

About this time Lawyer Fuller was named as chief justice of the United States. Mrs. Fuller gleefully packed up and carried Miss Paulina away to Washington with the other Misses Fuller.

About the first of last January Miss Paulina informed her mother that she was 19 years of age, and that she intended to make a trip to Chicago. Mrs. Fuller opposed the trip, but the girl was firm in her determination and a few days later she left. Since that time she has been in Chicago visiting friends of the family.

THE ELOPEMENT.

The story of the elopement of the young pair is an interesting one, and demonstrates that young Aubrey has cut his eye teeth. To begin with he hired two detectives to shadow him and his affianced until they left Chicago. These two guardians he paid $5 a piece. His object was to learn if any one was following them and to prevent the young lady from being restrained. It was early this afternoon when he met Miss Fuller, and Gunther's candy store was their starting place.

They boarded a Milwaukee & St. Paul train at the Union depot at 3:30 o'clock. To make matters more interesting, young Aubrey's father also left for Milwaukee on the Northwestern road. At least that is what the bridegroom thought this evening while flushed with the success of his elopement. However all efforts to locate the senior Aubrey this evening were unavailing.

Mr. Aubrey, to use his own language, will rustle around a bit in Milwaukee before returning home.

THE COPPER MARKET.

A Sharp Decline in Societe des Metaux Shares—A Panicky Feeling in Paris.

PARIS, March 19.—5 P. M.—Societe des Metaux shares opened at 47 francs 50 centimes and closed at [illegible] francs. Rio Tinto opened at 271 francs 25 centimes and closed at 270. Comptoir d'Escompte, 167 francs 50 centimes.

NEW YORK, March 19.—There is no interest in copper here. Only a few nominal bids were received here during the call.

A PANICKY FEELING IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 19.—A pessimist feeling prevails regarding the position of the credit houses, especially of the Banque de Paris, which is much discussed. It is reported that the bank is deeply involved in the copper troubles and is not expected to pay a dividend for the past year. Moreover it is stated that the directors of the concern announced at the bankers' meeting last evening that they were unable to subscribe for the relief of the Comptoir d'Escompte, having themselves lent [illegible]70,000 francs on copper warrants.

The decline in Societe des Metaux shares is attributed to a report that the concern had definitely suspended payment and operations. Nevertheless there was a large amount of buying and repurchasing in the copper mine market to-day, the demand for Rio Tinto being especially strong.

THE REORGANIZED COMPANY.

PARIS, March 19.—The capital of the new Comptoir d'Escompte will be 40,000,000 francs, with power to increase it to 80,000,000 francs. There will be 80,000 shares at 500 francs. Half of these will be subscribed by a financial group, but the other half will be reserved for the original shareholders of the Comptoir d'Escompte.

READY FOR A RECEIVER.

LONDON, March 19.—The Paris correspondent of the News says: The Societe des Metaux has given notice of its inability to take deliveries of copper from the mines, and will to-morrow declare a suspension of payment and demand the appointment of a judicial receiver. It is rumored that the shareholders of the Comptoir d'Escompte will institute an action against the directors for misapplying the concern's funds to their own or their friends' uses or for culpable concealment of its position on the last balance sheet, which did not explain their copper liabilities.

IN THE COMMONS.

The Opposition Resume Their Harassing Warfare Upon the Ministry.

LONDON, March 19.—In the commons to-day Sir William Vernon Harcourt said that he had intended to challenge the conduct of the government in placing Irish officials, paid by the public, at the service of the Times, in connection with that paper's charges against Irish members of the house. He also announced that on the vote for Attorney-General Webster's salary he should ask what sort of services the attorney-general had rendered during the last three months, and why any salary should be paid to him.

Gladstone denied the right of Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer, to calculate beforehand what time should be allowed for the discussion of the vote. He denied the right of the government to take away the right of the house to the time necessary for a full discussion.

Harcourt, in opposing the motion of Smith, the government leader, to give precedence to the vote on the account until it was passed, accused the government of shirking the discussion and of trying to induce a new standing order of closure. He said the time was drawing near when the commons would become simply a vestry for the registering of government transactions.

Sir James Fergusson, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, announced that certain questions between England and Morocco have not been settled. A portion of the British channel squadron is consequently gone to Tangier.

A FATAL COLLISION

Four Train Men Killed in a Railway Accident.

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Quebec, March 19.—The Halifax express on the Inter-Colonial railway collided to-day with a freight train near Rimouski station. Four train men were killed and two others were injured, but not fatally. Both engines, the baggage car and three freight cars were wrecked. None of the passengers were injured.

The shooting caused great excitement among the students, who had assembled in large numbers on the outside, but they dispersed quietly.

DIFFERENT CASES IN COURT.

The Morin-Cody Shooting Affair—Bourne's Examination Postponed.

William Darragh Gets One Year—Frank Jachetta —Reduction of Rates—Demurs to the Indictment.

William Darragh, who has respectable connections at The Dalles, was arraigned in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of furnishing whisky to an Indian at that place. He entered a plea of guilty, and would probably have escaped with a light fine if he had kept still, but when the court told him that he could make a statement if he desired, he gave himself away and acknowledged that he had been convicted of the same offense a little over a year ago, and sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. As this is the fourth time that Darragh has been up for the same offense, the court sentenced him to pay a fine of $1 and to be imprisoned in the state penitentiary for one year. Darragh is an unfortunate young fellow, who was crippled by a horse falling on him years ago, and is a victim to the morphine habit. He will probably be better off in the penitentiary than out of it.

CHINESE CRIMINAL CASES.

The day was taken up in Justice Phelan's court yesterday trying a batch of Chinese cases, if such they may be called.

The first on the list was Wong Wah charged with vagrancy. The defendant who claims to be in the employ of Seid Back, in the contracting business, denied the charge, stating that it is a "job" put up by [illegible]. As justice courts have no jurisdiction over cases of vagrancy, the charge was dismissed.

Ah Lin, charged with attempting to bribe Officer John Kerrigan, by offering him $5 to arrest another Chinaman, waived examination and was held to answer before the grand jury, with bonds fixed at $250.

The case of Mrs. Wong Sing, better known as Hannah Emongry was next called. Mrs. Sing, who is a respectable widow, as reputable white witnesses say, was charged with stealing $10 from Linn, the above defendant. Justice Phelan being satisfied that the woman was not guilty of the charge, dismissed the case.

A Chung [illegible] charged with stealing $110 from King Tai, the Chinese merchant tailor demanded an examination. The preponderance of evidence was against him, and he was held to appear before the grand jury, with bail fixed at $250.

CODY WAIVES EXAMINATION.

Yesterday was the time set for the preliminary examination in the cases of Al Cody, the hotel runner, charged with mayhem, and Joseph Morin, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon Cody.

When the case of Cody was called in the police court yesterday afternoon, counsel for the defendant stated that in view of the fact that all of his witnesses were not in readiness, his client would waive examination. As a further reason for taking this step, he gave it as his opinion that an unfounded prejudice had developed against the defendant, that was not calculated to help his case. "While we believe that we will be able to establish the entire innocence of the defendant," continued counsel, "we prefer to have the case taken before the grand jury at this time."

Judge Tanner accordingly held Cody to answer, and left the bail at the figure it now stands, $2500.

The case against Joseph Morin was then called, but the state in anticipation of an examination in the case of Cody, which would have consumed the greater part of the afternoon, was not prepared to proceed with the hearing and a continuance was granted until this afternoon.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Mrs. Wong Sing appeared in Justice Tuttle's court this yesterday afternoon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Ah Linn, on a charge of [illegible] assault on her. These are [illegible]. Mrs. Sing [illegible] the defendant [illegible] Linn [illegible] and [illegible] to assault her. Failing in [illegible] and had Mrs. Sing arrested on a charge of larceny from the person of $64. The warrant will be served as soon as Linn can be found.

Farmer, Tom Flannigan and Joseph Garvin, simple drunks, fined $5 each; [illegible], same, $5; James Owens, vagrancy, sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment; Frank [illegible], charged with the same offense, pleaded not guilty, and will have a hearing this afternoon; [illegible], charged with trespass by sleeping in a box car of the O. R. & N. Co., was fined $5.

The case of William Brown, charged with stabbing John Buckley was continued indefinitely, to await the outcome of his victim's injuries.

[illegible] THE INDICTMENT.

[illegible] yesterday heard the argument in [illegible] of counsel for Charles Perkins, indicted for [illegible] assaulting Gertie Kepper, to [illegible] the indictment because it does not contain the names of all the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury when that body was investigating the case. Perkins testified in his own behalf, and the motion was made for the reason that [illegible] not on the list. Judge Stearns [illegible] the matter under advisement.

HE WANTED A JURY TRIAL.

C. W. Peck was tried by a jury in Justice Tuttle's court [illegible] on a charge of stealing milk cans [illegible] A. [illegible] The defendant [illegible] high to be tried by a jury.

JACHETTA WANTS TO BE HEARD.

Frank Jachetta, the Italian charged with the murder of Charley Olsen, hopes that the grand jury will take up his case at once and investigate it. His friends are likewise anxious for an early investigation. They are confident that Jachetta will be able to prove that the killing was done in self-defense, and this fact, taken in connection with his peaceful character, they think, will help out the case.

THE BRIDGE AND FERRY RATES.

At 10 o'clock this morning the county commissioners will hear the application of the citizens of East Portland for a reduction of the maximum rates of toll on the Stark street ferry and the Morrison street bridge. The East Portlanders maintain that the rates are exorbitant, while the bridge and ferry companies hold a different opinion.

[illegible] TO DIE.

He Was Nearly Dead When Found Dangling at the End of a Blanket Strip Monday Night.

John Morris, an ex-convict, who is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing for trying to break open the safe in the Theater Royal saloon, attempted to commit suicide Monday night. Dan Kennedy, one of his cell mates, being aroused from sleep by the creaking of a bunk near by, saw Morris dangling at the end of an improvised rope which was thrown around the upper cross bar of the door and attached to the lower one. Kennedy yelled at the top of his voice and woke up Jailer Dougherty, who after twenty minutes' hard work succeeded in restoring Morris to consciousness. Then he placed the would-be suicide in irons.

Morris occupied a cell in the north wing of the jail. His rope was his blanket, cut and twisted. When he had fastened the knot securely under his ear he stepped off the bunk.

Morris is determined to commit suicide rather than serve another term in the state prison. Yesterday morning another rope, made from a piece of blanket, was found under his head, whereupon Jailer Dougherty put him in the main corridor with the other prisoners, and keeps a lookout for Morris.

HIS WOUNDS PROVED FATAL.

The Body of a Chinese Cook Cut With an Ax at Kalas, W. T., Sent to This City.

In THE OREGONIAN of last Sunday appeared the following item regarding the assault on a Chinaman by an enraged father with whose daughter the Chinaman had taken improper liberties:

W. S. Thompson, living near George Dixon's logging camp, walked into Kalas, W. T., Wednesday and surrendered himself. The Chinese cook at Dixon's camp had been taking improper liberties with Thompson's daughter Tuesday, while [illegible] was in town. On his return his wife [illegible] what the Chinaman had done. [illegible] went to the cabin, where the Chinaman was at work and attacked him with an ax. The Chinaman defended himself with a [illegible], but Thompson [illegible] and held his chest open, and he will certainly die, if not dead already. Public sentiment is with Thompson, on account of the provocation for the deed.

The prediction then made regarding the probable fatality of the Chinaman's injuries has proved true, for the body of the dead Chinaman was yesterday received at the undertaking establishment of DeLin & Holman. The body was brought via the Northern Pacific road and was accompanied by a physician's certificate, which stated that the deceased came to his death by violence. The Chinaman's name is Chin Sly Lin. He was about 25 years of age and has been in this country a little over two years. A large gash in the left side of the body shows where the blow was struck in that encounter.

Friends of the dead man have taken charge of the remains and will accord them a burial this afternoon.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK.

They Enter the Office of the Portland Soda Works, Open the Safe and Carry Off About $75.

Burglars entered the office of the Portland Soda Works at the corner of Fifth and Oak streets at an early hour yesterday morning, and blew open the safe. All the money in the cash box, about $75, was taken, while papers, receipts, etc., were scattered promiscuously about the room and on the walks outside.

Nothing was known of the burglary until yesterday morning about 6 o'clock, when A. B. Townsend, one of the drivers of the soda wagons, went to open the place. Upon reaching the corner he was surprised to see bills, receipts and other valuable papers of the firm scattered about on the walks. After gathering these up he went inside and saw that the safe was blown open and that the money was gone.

The burglars entered the building through the entrance by prying the door open with a chisel. When once inside, the door to the office was found open, and work on the safe was begun without any further obstacles. All the curtains were pulled down and the two lamps were placed on the floor. While thus screened from the observation of passers-by, should any happen that way, they drilled two holes in the door of the safe, one above and the other below the combination lock. The force of the explosion scattered fragments of the concrete in the thick door about the room, and several panes of glass in the windows were shattered.

Before making an attack on the safe, the burglars armed themselves with a sledge hammer, saw, chisel and a few other tools, which they stole from the blacksmith shop on the corner of Fifth and G streets. These tools were left near the safe in the office.

The burglary must have been committed about 1 o'clock. A gentleman residing near the soda works observed three men standing in front of the building as he was returning to his home from the Hibernian ball at half past 12 o'clock. Shortly after he had retired to his room, he heard a loud commotion in the direction of the soda works, but thinking that perhaps some of the men connected with the establishment were at work, he paid no attention to it.

It is not very likely that the safe blowers will be apprehended, unless they should repeat their operations, and Messrs. Northrup & Sturgis, the proprietors of the soda works, are left with no further consolation than the fact that the entire [illegible] were not carried away.

A Dispatch Received Denying the Report There is Smallpox on Board.

The appended dispatch was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. W. Staver, from Rev. Alonzo Kummer, Dr. George H. Chance, and Mr. Smith, of Portland, who were passengers:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19, 1889.

We arrived Saturday, but were not allowed to embark, a child having what was supposed to be varioloid. It was really only the effects of vaccination. The child was removed and the steamer hauled into the bay. Our accommodations are first-class. We expect to be released by Friday. All on board are well and have no complaint to make.

The above is published to assure those who have friends on board the Columbia that there is no danger of their contracting the dreaded disease.

If, as the dispatch says, there is no smallpox on board the steamer, it seems very strange that the San Francisco health officers should keep the vessel quarantined, as the expense to the O. R. & N. Company is nearly $1000 per day for every day the Columbia is tied up.

The company intended transferring the passengers of the Columbia to another vessel Monday and after fumigating the steamer, load her and send her out, but to this arrangement the passengers naturally objected. On board the steamer the passengers have every accommodation that could be desired, while if they were transferred to some less commodious vessel they would not fare so well. As the situation now stands the O. R. & N. Co. will make every effort to dock its steamer, which will be the means of shortening the passengers' time in quarantine.

OUR CABLE RAILROAD.

The Company About to Decide Whether to Use Electricity or Steam for Operating Purposes.

The question which the Portland Cable Road Company is now called upon to decide is what kind of power they shall use to operate their road. The plans are for steam power but the Willamette Falls Electric Company wish to supply it by electric motors, and the officers of the two companies are to consult in regard to the matter.

If the electric men can furnish assurances that they can satisfactorily supply power and will give bonds to have the power ready when it is wanted, and all that sort of thing, the cable company will probably enter into a contract with them. This matter must, however, be settled at once, as if such a contract is made it will involve material changes in the power house, and it is desired to let the contract for this building at once.

The company are now in earnest about building the cable road and are not inclined to let the grass grow under their feet.

If you want a handsome spring overcoat see Steinbach's. They are selling them from $5 upwards.

[illegible] enforcing rigid quarantine regulations [illegible] the cases of the last two patients who were removed to the smallpox hospital some time ago." These words were addressed to City Physician Dr. Meyer by a reporter yesterday. "Is there any truth in this statement?" asked the reporter.

"No, there is not," replied Dr. Meyer. "There are some people who [illegible] all the time, and it is useless to try to satisfy everybody in this world. One of the cases referred to is that of a little boy in South Portland. He was taken to the hospital and is now almost well enough to leave. That house was quarantined two weeks, all that was necessary in that case.

"The other case referred to by the complaining party is probably that in a house in the lower end of town. There was a very light case of varioloid at the house, and the patient was taken to the smallpox hospital also. This was such a very mild case that we did not deem it necessary to quarantine the house at all. It was thoroughly fumigated and disinfected.

"It is singular that some people should try to dictate to the city authorities. The city authorities have had sufficient experience with smallpox to know what precautions to take against the spread of the disease. They certainly have managed affairs successfully so far, and I think that in a light case of varioloid they ought to be left to their own judgment as to what precautions to take. If we had quarantined those houses for six months, as some would have us do, and fed perhaps a dozen or two people at the city's expense, there would be a howl raised about needless extravagance.

"Some complain because smallpox costs the city too much money and others because the city does not go to more expense. No, I do not think that there has been any recklessness or wanton neglect in the matter of quarantining houses from which smallpox patients have been removed, and the city authorities will in all probability see that all reasonable precautions are taken in all cases.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

Second and Most Successful Production of "The Mountebank."

The Celebrated Violinist, M. Ovide Musin, and His Grand Concert Company at New Park Next Week.

Last night the New Park theater was filled to its utmost capacity by an audience made up of the most fashionable and appreciative of our people, all evidently eager to enjoy the inimitable delineation of "The Mountebank" by the great artist Frederick Warde.

Long before the hour for lifting the curtain the house began to fill up, and when 8 o'clock arrived there was little room left for the late-comer.

It would be difficult to add to what has been already said about Mr. Warde's masterly impersonation of this complex role. There is in it such a mixture, such a broad contrast of characterizations that none but an artist of the most pronounced qualities could do even faint justice to its requirements. Then what shall we say of an actor who so completely fills the measure of its demands as does Mr. Warde! We are simply lost in wonder that he should be able to so play upon our emotions as now to incite us to uproarious laughter, and in the twinkling of an eye, to move us to tears by the pathos of his work. Such is the power of genius. Recall after recall was the result of his splendid work last evening. He met the various and contrasting requirements of the role of Belphegor last evening with such dramatic force as to stamp him with the seal of true dramatic genius.

To-night, for the only time, "Damon and Pythias."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

DIFFERENT CASES IN COURT.

The Morin-Cody Shooting Affair—Bourne's Examination Postponed.

William Darragh Gets One Year—Frank Jachetta—Reduction of Rates—Demurs to the Indictment.

William Darragh, who has respectable connections at The Dalles, was arraigned in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of furnishing whisky to an Indian at that place. He entered a plea of guilty, and would probably have escaped with a light fine if he had kept still, but when the court told him that he could make a statement if he desired, he gave himself away and acknowledged that he had been convicted of the same offense a little over a year ago, and sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. As this is the fourth time that Darragh has been up for the same offense, the court sentenced him to pay a fine of $1 and to be imprisoned in the state penitentiary for one year. Darragh is an unfortunate young fellow, who was crippled by a horse falling on him years ago, and is a victim to the morphine habit. He will probably be better off in the penitentiary than out of it.

CHINESE CRIMINAL CASES.

The day was taken up in Justice Phelan's court yesterday trying a batch of Chinese cases, if such they may be called.

The first on the list was Wong Wah charged with vagrancy. The defendant who claims to be in the employ of Seid Back, in the contracting business, denied the charge, stating that it is a "job" got up by blackmailers. As justice courts have no jurisdiction over cases of vagrancy the charge was dismissed.

Ah Linn, charged with attempting to bribe Officer John Kerrigan, by offering him $5 to arrest another Chinaman waived examination and was held to answer before the grand jury, with bonds fixed at $250.

The case of Mrs. Wong Sing, better known as Hannah Emongry was next called. Mrs. Sing who is a respectable widow, as reputable white witnesses say, was charged with stealing $10 from Linn, the above defendant. Justice Phelan being satisfied that the woman was not guilty of the charge, dismissed the case.

Chung Louw, charged with stealing $110 from King Tai, the Chinese merchant tailor demanded an examination. The preponderance of evidence was against him, and he was held to appear before the grand jury, with bail fixed at $250.

CODY WAIVES EXAMINATION.

Yesterday was the time set for the preliminary examination in the cases of Al Cody, the hotel runner, charged with mayhem, and Joseph Morin, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon Cody.

When the case of Cody was called in the police court yesterday afternoon, counsel for the defendant stated that in view of the fact that all of his witnesses were not in readiness, his client would waive examination. As a further reason for taking this step, he gave it as his opinion that an unfounded prejudice had developed against the defendant, that was not calculated to help his case. "While we believe that we will be able to establish the entire innocence of the defendant," continued counsel, "we prefer to have the case taken before the grand jury at this time."

Judge Tanner accordingly held Cody to answer, and left the bail at the figure it now stands, $2500.

The case against Joseph Morin was then called, but the state in anticipation of an examination in the case of Cody, which would have consumed the greater part of the afternoon, was not prepared to proceed with the hearing and a continuance was granted until this afternoon.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Mrs. Wong Sing appeared in Justice Tuttle's court late yesterday afternoon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Ah Linn, on a charge of attempting a felonious assault on her. These are the same parties who appeared in Justice Phelan's court earlier in the day as defendant and plaintiff respectively. Mrs. Sing, who was the defendant in the other case, alleges that Linn came to her house which is situated on Second and Salmon streets, and attempted to assault her. Failing in his purpose, Linn betook himself off to the justice's court and had Mrs. Sing arrested on a charge of larceny from the person of $10. The warrant will be served as soon as Linn can be found.

POLICE COURT.

John Johnson, W. H. Farmer, Tom Flannigan and Joseph Garvin, simple drunks, fined $2 each, T. Kerrey, same, $5. James Owens, vagrancy, sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment. Frank Williams, charged with the same offense, pleaded not guilty, and will have a hearing this afternoon. Mike Kelly, charged with trespass by sleeping in a box car of the O. R. & N. Co., was fined $10.

The case of William Brown charged with stabbing John Buckley was continued indefinitely, to await the outcome of his victim's injuries.

NEW SUITS.

A. L. Fraser, administrator of the estate of Rhoda A. Palmer, is suing W. G. Jenne and the Portland Trust Company in the state circuit court for possession of about 340 acres of land in this county.

Alexander B. Hamilton sued Margaret A. Stevens, et al. for a decree for the sale of some property in this city.

A marriage license was granted yesterday for Mark W. Gosline and Catherine McLaren.

WANTS TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT.

Judge Stearns yesterday heard the argument in the application of counsel for Charles Perkins, indicted for feloniously assaulting Gertie Kepper, to set aside the indictment because it does not contain the names of all the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury when that body was investigating the case. Perkins testified in his own behalf, and the motion was made for the reason that his own name is not on the list. Judge Stearns has the matter under advisement.

HE WANTED A JURY TRIAL.

C. W. Peck was tried by a jury in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday on a charge of stealing milk cans and coolers from L. A. Moorehouse. The defendant would have fared a great deal better by simply standing trial before the court instead of demanding a jury. It did not take the six men long to return a verdict of guilty after retiring, and Justice [illegible] fined Peck $25 and costs. The costs will [illegible] than the fine. [illegible] high to be tried by a jury.

JACHETTA WANTS TO BE HEARD.

Frank Jachetta, the Italian charged with the murder of Charley Olsen, hopes that the grand jury will take up his case at once and investigate it. His friends are likewise anxious for an early investigation. They are confident that Jachetta will be able to prove that the killing was done in self-defense, and this fact, taken in connection with his previous peaceful character, they think, will help out his case.

THE BRIDGE AND FERRY RATES.

At 10 o'clock this morning the county commissioners will hear the application of the citizens of East Portland for a reduction of the maximum rates of toll on the Stark street ferry and the Morrison street bridge. The East Portlanders maintain that the rates are exorbitant, while the bridge and ferry companies hold a different opinion.

HE WAS HELD TO ANSWER.

Deputy United States Marshal Furnish yesterday brought down from Pendleton Narcisse Talbot, held to answer on a charge of furnishing liquor to an Indian who was placed in the county jail to await trial in the United States district court.

YESTERDAY'S DOCKET.

Robert Burkhardt, of Switzerland, admitted to citizenship.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT NO. 1.

William Johnson & Son vs. McLaughlin, Cox & Browning, verdict for $228 05 for plaintiff; defendant allowed ten days to move for a new trial.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT NO. 2.

F. K. Arnold vs. the Oregon Marble & Lime Company; minor authorized to loan $2000.

Margaret Beach vs. Warren Beach, motion to modify decree heretofore made denied.

Ward S. Stevens and George C. Sears vs. E. L. Steele; order citing defendant to appear and show cause dismissed.

MORRIS IS DETERMINED TO DIE.

He Was Nearly Dead When Found Dangling at the End of a Blanket Strip Monday Night.

John Morris, an ex-convict, who is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing for trying to break open the safe in the Theater Royal saloon attempted to commit suicide Monday night. Dan Kennedy, one of his cell mates, being aroused from sleep by the creaking of a bunk near by, saw Morris dangling at the end of an improvised rope which was thrown around the upper cross bar of the door and attached to the lower one. Kennedy yelled at the top of his voice and woke up Jailer Dougherty, who after twenty minutes' hard work succeeded in restoring Morris to consciousness. Then he placed the would-be suicide in irons.

Morris occupied a cell in the north wing of the jail. His rope was his blanket, cut and twisted. When he had fastened the knot securely under his ear he stepped off the bunk.

Morris is determined to commit suicide rather than serve another term in the state prison. Yesterday morning another rope, made from a piece of blanket, was found under his bunk, whereupon Jailer Dougherty put him in the main corridor with the other prisoners, and keeps a lookout for Morris.

HIS WOUNDS PROVED FATAL.

The Body of a Chinese Cook Cut With an Ax at Kelso, W. T., Sent to This City

In THE OREGONIAN of last Sunday appeared the following item regarding the assault on a Chinaman by an enraged father with whose daughter the Chinaman had taken improper liberties:

W. S. Thompson, living near George Dixon's logging camp, walked into Kelso, W. T., Wednesday and surrendered himself. The Chinese cook at Dixon's camp had been taking improper liberties with Thompson's children Tuesday, while Thompson was in town. On his return his wife informed him of what the Chinaman had done. Thompson at once went to the cabin where the Chinaman was at work and attacked him with an ax. The Chinaman defended himself with a knife, but Thompson quickly overpowered him and gave him a slash that cut through four ribs and laid his chest open, and he will certainly die if not dead already. Public sentiment is with Thompson, on account of the provocation for the deed.

The prediction then made regarding the probable fatality of the Chinaman's injuries has proved true, for the body of the dead Chinaman was yesterday received at the undertaking establishment of DeLin & Holman. The body was brought via the Northern Pacific road and was accompanied by a physician's certificate, which stated that the deceased came to his death by violence. The Chinaman's name is Chin Sly Lin. He was about 35 years of age and has been in this country a little over two years. A large gash in the left side of the body shows where the blow was struck in that encounter.

Friends of the dead man have taken charge of the remains and will accord them a burial this afternoon.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK.

Burglars entered the office of the Portland Soda Works at the corner of Fifth and Oak streets at an early hour yesterday morning, and blew open the safe. All the money in the cash box, about $75, was taken while papers, receipts etc., were scattered promiscuously about the room and on the walks outside.

Nothing was known of the burglary until yesterday morning about 6 o'clock when A. B. Townsend, one of the drivers of the soda wagons, went to open the place. Upon reaching the corner he was surprised to see bills, receipts and other valuable papers of the firm scattered about on the walks. After gathering these up he went inside and saw that the safe was blown open and that the money was gone.

The burglars entered the building through the entrance by prying the door open with a chisel. When once inside, the door to the office was found open, and work on the safe was begun without any further obstacles. All the curtains were pulled down and the two lamps were placed on the floor. While thus screened from the observation of passers-by, should any happen that way, they drilled two holes in the doors of the safe, one above and the other below the combination lock. The force of the explosion scattered fragments of the concrete in the thick door about the room and several panes of glass in the office windows were shattered.

Before making an attack on the safe the burglars armed themselves with a sledge hammer, saw, chisel and a few other tools, which they stole from the blacksmith shop, on the corner of Fifth and G streets. These tools were left lying near the safe in the office.

The burglary must have been committed at about 1 o'clock. A gentleman residing near the soda works observed three men standing in front of the building as he was returning to his home from the Hibernian ball at half past 12 o'clock. Shortly after he had retired to his room, he heard a loud commotion in the direction of the soda works, but thinking that perhaps some of the men connected with the establishment were at work, he paid no attention to it.

It is not very likely that the safe blowers will be apprehended unless they should repeat their operations, and Messrs. Northrup & Sturgis, the proprietors of the soda works, are left with no further consolation than the fact that the entire works were not carried away.

SIX DAYS' GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE.

Portland to Have a Visitation of the Prevalent Fever for Racing

For the six days beginning to-morrow night Portland will be in the throes of a six days' go-as-you please championship race, which will take place at the Mechanics' Pavilion. The start will be made at 10 o'clock to-morrow night and the time set for the finish is 10 o'clock next Wednesday night.

The affair is under the management of C. B. Rulofson, of New York, and J. J. Haggerty, of San Francisco. Mr. Haggerty said yesterday that he expected about twenty men to start. Among those who have entered are William Black, Philadelphia; C. E. Beaver, C. E. Johnson, Kansas City; C. B. Campana, New York; James Kelly, Buffalo, N. Y.; John Pollard, San Francisco; David Haab, Ed Morgan, and Charles Smith, Portland; James Bailey, Montreal; Jack Vincent, Manchester, England; F. M. Boos, Aberdeen, Scotland; F. L. Hogarth, Boston; Smith Pryor, Denver; Joe Wilson, Chicago; Fred Knapp, Los Angeles; C. M. Cunningham, Walla Walla; Henry Sloan, St. Louis; Ben Moore, Pittsburg; Henry Phillips, Indianapolis; Wm. Clinger.

Campana is expected here to-morrow. He is 57 years old and is familiarly known as "Old Sport." He took part in the recent big races in New York and was a good attraction.

The race will be run under the Police Gazette rules, 50 per cent. of the gross gate receipts being divided among the winners. No one will be entitled to a share in the gate receipts unless he covers 525 miles during the race. This feat was accomplished by only two men in the recent San Francisco contest. All contestants must cover 100 miles the first twenty four hours or be barred from continuance in the race.

In addition to the gate money, $1500 will be given in prizes for breaking records. For beating the 142 hour record the prize is $1000; the 72-hour record, $250; the 48-hour record, $100; the 24-hour record, $75; the 12-hour record, $50. For making the best light record, for beating the record for one hour and for making the fastest mile during the race, prizes of $25 are offered.

Men were engaged yesterday preparing the track. It will be eleven laps to the mile, and will be made of the best loam, tan bark and saw dust.

THE NEW PORTLAND HOSPITAL.

A Site Purchased, and Work on the Building Will Be Commenced by May 1.

The deed for the site of the new Portland hospital, to be erected in East Portland, was signed yesterday. This structure, which will be the largest of its kind in the city, is to be built on a five-and-a-half-acre tract located between the base line road and the motor line and east of the cemetery. The location is well suited for hospital purposes, being high, commanding and well drained.

The trustees of the hospital have had this tract of land in view for some time, although the formal transfer was not made until yesterday. The former owner of the land, James Abraham, deeded it to the trustees on special terms, whereby he virtually donated $10,000 to the hospital.

Dr. E. P. Fraser stated to a reporter yesterday that work on the new building will begin about the 1st of May and that by the 1st of November the hospital is expected to be ready for occupancy. It is not yet decided whether the building will be of brick or of wood. If built of brick, the cost is estimated at $120,000 and if of wood the cost will be about half of that amount. The hospital will be built according to the plans drawn about a year ago.

The tract of land owned by the hospital in South Portland, near the Children's Home, has been placed on the market, and, if sold, the proceeds will be merged into the building fund. It was the original intention of the trustees to build the hospital on this ground, but the tract just bought was thought to be more desirable.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees April 1, when all arrangements for the building of the hospital will be definitely settled. Bids will be opened immediately thereafter, and work will be commenced by the 1st of May, if not sooner.

THE QUARANTINED COLUMBIA

A Dispatch Received Denying the Report That There is Smallpox on Board

The appended dispatch was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. W. Staver, from Rev. Alfred Kummer, Dr. George H. Chance, and Mr. Smith, of Portland, who were passengers:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19, 1889.

We arrived Saturday, but were not allowed to embark, a child having what was supposed to be varioloid. It was really only the effects of vaccination. The child was removed and the steamer hauled into the bay. Our accommodations are first-class. We expect to be released by Friday. All on board are well and have no complaint to make.

The above is published to assure those who have friends on board the Columbia that there is no danger of their contracting the dreaded disease.

If, as the dispatch says, there is no smallpox on board the steamer, it seems very strange that the San Francisco health officers should keep the vessel quarantined, as the expense to the O. R. & N. Company is nearly $1000 per day for every day the Columbia is tied up.

The company intended transferring the passengers of the Columbia to another vessel Monday and after fumigating the steamer, load her and send her out, but to this arrangement the passengers naturally objected. On board the steamer the passengers have every accommodation that could be desired, while if they were transferred to some less commodious vessel they would not fare so well. As the situation now stands the O. R. & N. Co. will make every effort to dock its steamer which will be the means of shortening the passengers time in quarantine.

OUR CABLE RAILROAD.

The Company About to Decide Whether to Use Electricity or Steam for Operating Purposes.

The question which the Portland Cable Road Company is now called upon to decide is what kind of power they shall use to operate their road. The plans are for steam power but the Willamette Falls Electric Company wish to supply it by electric motors, and the officers of the two companies are to consult in regard to the matter.

If the electric men can furnish assurances that they can satisfactorily supply power and will give bonds to have the power ready when it is wanted and all that sort of thing, the cable company will probably enter into a contract with them. This matter must, however, be settled at once, as if such a contract is made it will involve material changes in the power house, and it is desired to let the contract for this building at once.

The company are now in earnest about building the cable road and are not inclined to let the grass grow under their feet.

If you want a handsome spring overcoat see Steinbach's. They are selling them from $5 upwards.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

Second and Most Successful Production of "The Mountebank."

The Celebrated Violinist, M. Ovide Musin, and His Grand Concert Company at New Park Next Week

Last night the New Park theater was filled to its utmost capacity by an audience made up of the most fashionable and appreciative of our people, all evidently eager to enjoy the inimitable delineation of "The Mountebank" by the great artist Frederick Warde.

Long before the hour for lifting the curtain the house began to fill up, and when 8 o'clock arrived there was little room left for the late-comer.

It would be difficult to add to what has been already said about Mr. Warde's masterly impersonation of this complex role. There is in it such a mixture, such a broad contrast of characterizations that none but an artist of the most pronounced qualities could do even faint justice to its requirements. Then what shall we say of an actor who so completely fills the measure of its demands as does Mr. Warde? We are simply lost in wonder that he should be able to so play upon our emotions as now to incite us to uproarious laughter and in the twinkling of an eye, to move us to tears by the pathos of his work. Such is the power of genius. Recall after recall was the result of his splendid work last evening. He met the various and contrasting requirements of the role of Belphegor last evening with such dramatic force as to stamp him with the seal of true dramatic genius.

To-night, for the only time, "Damon and Pythias."

OVIDE MUSIN.

The music-lovers of Portland are indebted to the enterprise of the Oregon Alpine Club for the splendid musical treat which will be given them on next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the New Park theater by the superb concert company of M. Ovide Musin, the celebrated violinist.

Recollection of Musin's splendid performances on the violin are still fresh in the minds of those who were fortunate enough to hear him on his first visit to Portland with Trebelli, two years ago. He is one of the great virtuosi of the day and ranked by all competent judges with such artists as Joachim, Wilhelmj and Sarasate. He has brought to his support artists who stand in the front rank of the musical profession.

Madame Annie Louise Tanner, the artistic soprano, whose beautiful bird-like notes and phenomenal vocal range charmed her listeners when she made her first appearance in Portland with the New York Philharmonic Club, has received the highest encomiums of the press and the musical world wherever she has appeared. She is a finished vocalist of the finest school, and always thrills her audience with the beauty of her singing.

Whitney Mockridge the lyric tenor is also one of the company, and to hear him once is to wish for more.

Mr. Schonert the pianist is spoken of as one of the most accomplished pianists of the day and wherever he has played, has been applauded most generously.

With such a splendid artistic entourage M. Musin will return to Portland under the most favorable auspices and the New Park should be filled with the lovers of fine music artistically interpreted.

TANNER CREEK SEWER EXTENSION

The Council Considering the Project — Mr. Kamm's Views on the Subject.

The council have under consideration the building of an extension of the Tanner creek sewer from its present terminus to the south side of the City Park on Jefferson street. The extension runs for some distance through Mr. Jacob Kamm's property, and City Attorney Adams, by direction of the council, waited upon Mr. Kamm to obtain his consent to the construction of the sewer. He did not seem inclined to throw any obstacle in the way of the work, as it would probably only benefit his property, but he said he would take time to think the matter over. He was of opinion that such a work was hardly necessary at present, as the population of the district it was to drain was, he thought, hardly sufficient to require it.

Another thing which he thought rendered the immediate construction of the sewer inadvisable is the present scarcity of brick and their high price. He had intended to build at the corner of First and Washington this season, but had about abandoned the idea on this account. It is not known how the ideas of the council will fadge with those of Mr. Kamm, but the matter will probably be discussed at the meeting of the council this evening.

Owing to the extent and widely diversified nature of Mr. Kamm's city property, the city attorney had also to interview him in regard to the building of the proposed city hall. Mr. Kamm owns property on Fourth street opposite the site selected for that building on the south plaza block, and it was desired to know if he would have any objections to the erection of the building.

Some years since it was proposed to build a city hall there and the property owners in the vicinity made objections. Mr. Kamm said it would be necessary for him to consult with his neighbors there before he could give an answer. As the city intends to erect a handsome building which will be an ornament to the town, it is not supposed any objection will be made, and it is not thought that if such objections are made they will prove a serious obstruction.

REPAIRING DAMAGED STREETS

A Really Good Material for Improving Streets Yet To Be Found

The Multnomah Street Railway Company are repairing the streets along and within their tracks by putting in crushed rock and covering it with the scrapings of the streets. This has been found to be about as good a way of repairing the injuries done by the horses and extra horses on the hill as anything yet tried. The whole matter of street improvement is yet an unsolved conundrum in this city. The macadam works very well where the travel is light, but is not of much account on streets where there is much heavy teaming. North Seventh street shows this. Since the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company opened a roadway on Seventh street there has been a great deal of heavy travel there and a great deal of clay from cellars being dug has been hauled over that street and the usual liberal allowance of the clay from passing loads scattered over it. This clay, when kneaded into a stiff paste by passing wheels, sticks to them and picks up the macadam, which is carried along till a bridge is reached, where it is deposited in windrows, leaving a badly demoralized and in some places almost totally destroyed street.

The only thing that stands the wear and tear of heavy traffic is the Belgian block pavement, and that through the labors of plumbers, gas and water pipe layers and others, who tear it up and put in down in a careless manner, soon becomes full of hills and hollows, and is always noisy. The bituminous rock tried on Washington street is satisfactory in some respects, but has failed in spots, owing, it is claimed, to the imperfect manner in which it was laid. Perhaps some better style of pavement may be devised, and the concrete one talked of some time since may fill the bill. At all events it is worthy of trial.

PROPER PRECAUTIONS WERE TAKEN.

What the City Physician Has to Say About People Who Find Fault.

"Complaint has been made that the city authorities are lax in enforcing rigid quarantine regulations in the cases of the last two patients who were removed to the smallpox hospital some time ago." These words were addressed to City Physician Dr. Meyer by a reporter yesterday. "Is there any truth in this statement?" asked the reporter.

"No, there is not," replied Dr. Meyer. "There are some people who growl all the time, and it is useless to try to satisfy everybody in this world. One of the cases referred to is that of a little boy in South Portland. He was taken to the hospital and is now almost well enough to leave. That house was quarantined two weeks, all that was necessary in that case.

"The other case referred to by the complaining party is probably that in a house in the lower end of town. There was a very light case of varioloid at the house and the patient was taken to the smallpox hospital also. This was such a very mild case that we did not deem it necessary to quarantine the house at all. It was thoroughly fumigated and disinfected.

"It is singular that some people should try to dictate to the city authorities. The city authorities have had sufficient experience with smallpox to know what precautions to take against the spread of the disease. They certainly have managed affairs successfully so far, and I think that in a light case of varioloid they ought to be left to their own judgment as to what precautions to take. If we had quarantined those houses for six months as some would have us do, and feed perhaps a dozen or two people at the city's expense, there would be a howl raised about needless extravagance.

"Some complain because smallpox costs the city too much money and others because the city does not go to more expense. No, I do not think that there has been any recklessness or wanton neglect in the matter of quarantining houses from which smallpox patients have been removed, and the city authorities will in all probability see that all reasonable precautions are taken in all cases."

NEW SAVINGS BANK.

The Savings Bank of the Portland Trust Company of Oregon is conducted upon a safe and conservative basis. It is kept open during the usual banking hours of each business day, and also on Saturday nights from 6 to 8 o'clock. Clerks, mechanics, salesladies, and all others are invited to call and learn rates of interest and other particulars. Office 69 Third street.

GRAND OPENING.

The ladies of Portland and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the opening on Thursday and Friday, March 21 and 22, at the millinery parlor of Miss A. S. Jorgensen, 165 First street.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

CATCHING SEALS AND SEA LIONS.

Captain Boyton's Experience at the Mouth of the Columbia and at Tillamook Head

Captain Paul Boyton returned yesterday from Astoria where he has been for the past week in quest of seals and sea lions for Lincoln park in Chicago. In reply to a reporter's question as to his success the captain said:

"I found the sea lions and seals very wild, the former being simply ferocious. While I was at the mouth of the Columbia the weather was very rough. I spent a day at Tillamook head and captured four sea lions, as fine specimens of the animal as I have ever seen. They were as I have already said, very wild but with my method I found no trouble in taking them.

"The trail over the mountain that I traversed to reach the head is one of the roughest I think on the face of the earth. It took me eight hours to travel seven miles but the sight that met my eyes on reaching the rock well repaid me for my trouble. The rock was fairly alive with sea lions, both large and small. The four I took were captured with very little trouble but I found on starting for home that I would have to abandon them. The storm that was raging had blown so many trees across the trail that it was impassable for pack horses. The afternoon I spent on the rock I could have caught all the sea lions I wanted, but I had no use for more than four.

"I also spent a day on Sand island in quest of a few specimens of the seal. I found an abundance of them and took two, all I wanted, with very little trouble, although they were very wild, having been shot at so many times by passing fishermen. I have been advised by the fishermen to wait until the salmon canning season begins, when any numbers of seals will be caught in the fish nets which I can purchase at a comparatively low figure. My intention is to wait for a few weeks to let the angry Pacific quiet down a little, when I will be able to get what I want. In a couple of days I will have two cougars ready to ship. After shipping my animals East and giving my exhibition at Seattle I will depart for the East, where I have dates to give exhibitions."

As the reporter was taking his leave the captain called him back and said: "While on my way to Tillamook rock I stopped at a ranch at the mouth of Elk creek, at which place my host showed me two life preservers that had drifted ashore. On one was painted 'Earl Granville, St. Johns, New Brunswick,' and on the other 'Benj. Sewall 2921, J. Q. K. T.' It is a mystery to me and to others to whom I spoke where the life preservers came from, unless it be that the two ships have been wrecked and their crews have gone in a body to Davy Jones's locker."

THAT DIVINING ROD ONCE MORE

A Correspondent Who is a Firm Believer in the Power of the "Switch."

A reader of THE OREGONIAN, who "believes its aim to be the diffusion of knowledge as well as news," writes from Palouse City to protest against the disbelief in the wonderful powers of the divining rod, as expressed by this paper. He is a firm believer in those wonderful powers, and claims to be able to produce positive proof of the authenticity of the operation of those powers in the hands of a certain person he knows of, and concludes as follows:

"I firmly believe that locating underground veins of water will, in the near future be reduced to a science, and scientific instruments will be used that will indicate the probable depth, velocity and volume or magnitude of the veins."

[When it is remembered that the divining rod has been in use since the early periods of history and has gradually fallen into disuse as knowledge has increased in the world, it is hardly probable that it will develop any new features in the future. The fact is there is a trick in the manipulation of this forked hazel twig which any one can master in a few minutes, and there are half a dozen men in the reportorial rooms of this paper in whose hands the rod will point downward whenever required, impelled by a force sufficient to break the twigs. In regard to this and all other superstitions it will be well for believers to consult their common sense and conclude, when they see a thousand intelligent men disbelieve in such things to one who believes in them, that the majority are probably right. This has not been the case in some instances with new discoveries, but with old time superstitions like the divining rod, witches, ghosts, etc., it will be found the correct thing every time.]

IN ALASKA THIS SEASON

Juneau, Alaska, is the point selected by Baron E. de Groff, of Sitka, for the establishment of a photograph business.

The demands of tourists and natives for work in this line has been so poorly supplied, heretofore, that a first class establishment is a boon to the whole territory.

Mr. B. C. Towne, who is agent for Baron de Groff's famous Alaska scenes looks forward to largely increased sales this season. Oregon and Alaska are places of interest to tourists from all parts of the globe and are being advertised on a small scale by the distribution of photographs of their grand scenery.

NEWS OF THE COEUR D'ALENE.

Arrest of a Dishonest Mining Superintendent—Very Rich Ore.

SPOKANE FALLS, March 19.—Great excitement was created to-day by the arrest in this city of Almon [illegible], superintendent of the Alma and Nellie Wood mine in the Coeur d'Alenes, and H. Lawrence, a jeweler at Wardner, as accessory, on a charge of systematically robbing the company. The arrests gave rise to a rumor that the mine was exhausted, that the company was bankrupt and that the First National bank of this city had lost $60,000. All of this was without foundation. The company has lost several thousand dollars in bullion and amalgam, but not enough to cripple the enterprise, and the bank is not a dollar out by the transaction. On the contrary, the bank expresses a willingness to let the company have any amount of capital, but no assistance is required, and the mine will be operated as heretofore.

CRIME AT SPOKANE FALLS.

A Shoemaker Murdered—The Case of "Broncho Liz."

SPOKANE FALLS, March 19.—John Cramer, a shoemaker, was murdered last night. His body was found by the river above the falls. The indications are that the deed was done with an ice pick, for the purpose of robbery. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

The preliminary examination of "Broncho Liz," slayer of Charles W. [illegible], resulted in her commitment without bail for investigation by the grand jury. [illegible] made no defense, but it is understood she [illegible] proofs of provocation for use in the [illegible]

THE WALLA WALLA LIBELED.

The Vessel Gives Bonds and Sails for San Francisco.

SEATTLE, W. T., March 19.—The Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Walla Walla was to-day libeled by United States attorney White, upon information of [illegible], collector of Port Townsend. It is charged that upon her trip from Victoria of February 1, she took on board 270 pounds of opium marked "sauerkraut," consigned to J. [illegible], Ellensburgh, and landed them at Tacoma on February 1[illegible], with the knowledge and consent of Captain Blackburn. On the trip of February 27 the Walla Walla took on board three barrels marked "axle grease," containing 480 pounds of opium, and consigned to J. Clark, Ellensburgh. The value of the opium is alleged to be [illegible], and the vessel is therefore libeled in this amount. The fact that these consignments did not appear on the inward foreign manifest of the vessel is alleged as prima facie evidence that Captain D. O. Blackburn was engaged in the smuggling trade. The owners of the vessel furnished bonds in $27,700 and she proceeded on her regular trip to San Francisco. The case is set for hearing on April 1.

ELECTRIC STREET CARS.

Great Interest Taken in an Experimental Trip at Seattle.

SEATTLE, March 19.—One of the electric motor cars of the Seattle Electric Street Railway company was run for a distance of three miles this afternoon. It was an experimental trip. It attracted a large crowd, who were surprised to see a car traveling up and down hill at from four to fifteen miles an hour, with no apparent machinery. The officers of the company expressed the highest satisfaction at the way the motor car and machinery worked. In a few days the company will begin running electric cars on its five miles of track.

A HARRISON-BLAINE "FEUD."

Let Us Hope This Row Over the Spoils Will Not Extend to Washington.

HELENA, Mont., March 19.—There is a fierce wrangle going on between the republican papers, the Herald, Blaine organ, and Harrison's paper, the Journal, over the matter of awarding the contract for the territorial printing to the latter. The Fisks have been conducting the Herald for over twenty years, and claim a right to it, because they have fought the battles of the party during that time, while Russell Harrison and his paper are mere striplings. The affair is fast developing into a genuine feud, and aiding in developing the dissension in the republican ranks, which is intensified by the warring factions now fighting over the governorship.

The Herald charges that the Journal is owned and controlled mostly by Eastern capital, loaned to Russell B. on the supposition that he will be of use to them at Washington, through his influence with his father. "We are mistaken," it says, "if the republicans of Montana do not, when opportunity occurs, relegate to the rear those who, by their official act, awarded it to the Journal."

It is common report that certain "influences" were brought to bear in securing this award, the understanding being that Governor Leslie was to hold over until Montana was admitted as a state. He voted with Cole to award it to the Journal, but could not have given it to the Independent, the democratic paper, on account of two republicans on the board.

More Room Needed for School Children—Improvement Notes—Etc.

OLYMPIA, March 19.—The Odd Fellows have leased their [illegible] hall to the school authorities. The [illegible] of school buildings are entirely inadequate to the wants of the people, nearly 500 children being on the rolls, while there is barely room for half that number in the buildings. Verdict of Not Guilty in a Murder Trial—Charges of Bribery.

TACOMA, W. T., March 19.—The jury in the case of [illegible], charged with murdering [illegible] in September last, returned a verdict late to-night of not guilty.

A meeting was held to-night on the Puyallup reservation on the question of giving right of way to the Puyallup Valley Railway Company through the reservation, and resulted in 14 yeas to 71 nays. It is claimed that there was a large amount of bribery practiced, and that the Globe has the names of the persons bribed, but they decline to give them to-night.

THE NAVAL COMMISSION.

SEATTLE, March 19.—The naval commission which has been making a tour of the Sound for a number of weeks, to-night left for Portland. The [illegible] to Astoria to-morrow morning. As time goes on, the belief that the commission has definitely decided upon Port Orchard as the location of the navy yard is strengthened.

NOT GUILTY.

A Verdict in Favor of a Man Who Killed a Gypsy Horse Trader.

ALBANY, March 19.—A. T. Thompson, indicted for manslaughter [illegible] killing [illegible] Jesse Cole, a gypsy horse trader, in a row in this city about three months ago, was this evening found not guilty by the jury.

COLFAX NEWS ITEMS.

The Proposed New Court House and Jail—A Dairyman Seriously Gored.

COLFAX, W. T., March 19.—The county commissioners, who were in special session yesterday for the consideration of the question of building a court house and jail, ordered that notice be given to architects and contractors that they will on May 6th, next, in regular session, receive at the auditor's office in Colfax plans, specifications and proposals for the building of a court house and jail in this city, not exceeding $55,000 in cost.

John [illegible], a dairyman, living near the city was seriously horned by a fractious cow Sunday evening. The horn penetrated his left leg near the abdomen for some depth. Attending physicians believe that the wound, although a bad one, will not prove fatal.

Dr. P. Frank, of Tacoma, was in the city yesterday, departing for home to-day. He will return in two weeks and make a permanent location here.

Charles [illegible] returned from Chicago yesterday.

The regular annual stallion show for Whitman county will be held at the fair grounds on Saturday, April [illegible] Horsemen are taking considerable interest in this show. All the blooded horses in the county, of which there are a great many, will be in attendance.

Walla Walla Notes.

WALLA WALLA, March 19.—R. D. Crocker, of this city, left this evening for Washington, it is reported in response to a telegram from Mr. Allen, relative to the registership of the land office here, Crocker being an applicant.

Mr. Jasper, father of the young man who recently became insane at Ellensburgh, is now confined with illness in the hospital here.

Colonel John Sharpstein and wife returned this morning from California.

Edward Wolf, of this city, will be married at Columbus, [illegible], the 25th.

Dr. [illegible] has presented his large library to the [illegible] club [illegible]

It is estimated that the grain harvest of the county will be 200,000 acres, 150,000 of which is wheat. It is believed this will average 33 bushels.

The late rains have soaked the ground down about two feet.

Arrangements have been perfected for placing a Pullman express car on the O. & W. T. road at once.

Frank Edmiston, at present steward, has been appointed warden at the penitentiary, subject to approval by the governor. If confirmed, E. H. Prather will be made steward.

A Salvation Army Woman Assaulted.

HELENA, Mont., March 19.—An unknown ruffian committed a brutal assault upon Captain Nellie [illegible], of the Salvation Army, on the main street of Helena, last night. She was walking peaceably along and gave no cause of offense, unless it may be that the garb she wore, that of a member of the Salvation Army, excited his hatred. The brute struck the captain two severe blows in the breast. She fell, unconscious, and had to be carried home and medical assistance summoned. The scoundrel immediately took to his heels and ran away. These people have met with a pretty rough reception since coming to Montana, but the ridicule of the hoodlums has been principally directed toward the male members. No effort has been made by the officers or the police to protect them. They have been abused shamefully by sidewalk loafers as they marched in procession through the streets, and kicked and cuffed by drunken toughs in several instances. Of course, such cases of brutality as occurred last night are not of frequent occurrence in Helena.

Salem News Items.

SALEM, March 19.—Supplemental articles of incorporation were filed to-day by the Mutual Investment Company, of Portland, increasing the capital stock from $30,000 to $60,000.

Matt Hale, of Clatsop county, aged 40, a Finlander, was brought to the asylum to-day. He has homicidal tendencies.

In the supreme court to-day, in the matter of W. A. McCarty, respondent, vs. J. R. Wintler, appellant, on appeal from Multnomah, a motion was denied for leave to file transcript, but the court further ordered that the mandate be recalled unless respondent should throw off an item of $31 damages previously allowed by the court.

Victoria News Items.

VICTORIA, March 19.—The Victorians have determined to celebrate the coming birthday of her majesty right royally. O'Connor, Lee, Gaudaur, Hamm, Peterson, and probably Hanlan, will engage in a professional sculling match. There will be lacrosse, baseball and cricket matches, a grand ball, athletic tournament, sailing and other races, and a sham battle, in which the Dominion regulars and militia and navy will take part. The celebration will last two days.

Burglars held high carnival last night. The Occidental hotel was robbed; John Weiler's safe was drilled with holes to blow open, but the thieves were scared off before concluding their operations, and two residences were entered, but in both cases the thieves were alarmed while at work.

Seattle News Items.

SEATTLE, March 19.—In chambers to-day Judge Burke issued temporary injunctions restraining a large number of persons from driving piles, building wharves and placing other obstructions on the tide flats.

Nine owners of property along the city front were arrested to-day for violating the city ordinance in maintaining nuisances on their premises. The object in bringing the action is to test the ordinance requiring these and other property owners along the water front to construct sewers to the harbor.

FREIGHTS TO SOUTHERN OREGON.

Portland Should Look to It That California Does Not Get the Trade of Klamath and Lake Counties.

One of the traveling men of the Mitchell & Lewis Co. writes to the firm's manager in this city the following letter, which should be read by every merchant in Portland and some action in the matter presented should certainly be taken.

"I presume you already know the magnitude of that country (Southeastern Oregon) and what observations I have made in going through would not enlighten you any. There are millions of acres of fine and productive land through that section uncultivated, and will be so until they get railroads through, which I don't think they will be long without, from the present indications, as there are now three surveying corps in that section at work. Linkville, Bonanza and Lakeview are the only towns of any note and command the trade of that section.

"One thing is sure, however, if Portland merchants want the trade from that portion of the state, they must look after it more closely than they have. San Francisco now has things almost its own way, and with the present rates of freight it is going to be hard for Portland to compete. Lakeview is now getting all her freight via Redding, California, which is 150 miles farther away than Ashland. They get a rate of 76c from Frisco to Redding and pay 3 cents to get it from there to Lakeview, which they claim is much better and cheaper for them than from Portland, and only pay 2½ cents from Ashland or Ager. The railroad company is favoring San Francisco, and in this way cutting Portland out.

"Another thing Portland and Ashland should take note of. The stage line and freighting has been taken from Ashland to Ager, forty-three miles below in California, on account of the road being neglected from Ashland out. They claim the state has already put $1000 on this Ager road, and there is now another appropriation bill before the house for the same, which a great many think should be put on the Ashland road. The people and merchants all claim they can buy as cheap, and prefer to buy in Portland if they didn't have to pay such freights. I have talked with a number of the teamsters and stage drivers, and they all favor the Ashland road if it was kept up, which seems to me it should be, and would pay Portland to look after it.

"[illegible] people seem to think Portland has [illegible] them in this way, and have asked me to put the matter before you, which I have tried to do as I understand it."

THE HOUSE PROBLEM.

PORTLAND, Or., March 19.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I wish to commend you for your timely editorial upon the subject of additional houses for the accommodation of our incoming population. The urgency in this matter is not overdrawn by you. One thousand new houses, ranging in price from $12 to $30 per month, could be rented in Portland within thirty days from this date, if they could be provided. The cause of this extraordinary demand, as you have stated, is the tremendous influx of new people from other states. Nor has this influx reached its climax, by any means. From the information in the possession of the Immigration Board at this time I feel warranted in making the statement that April and May will witness the arrival of not less than 20,000 newcomers to our city. Most of these, of course, will not desire to tarry long in Portland, but we may reasonably expect to hold at least one-fifth of the number. Where such an addition to our permanent population is to obtain accommodations is a question for the property owners of Portland to solve, and a question, furthermore, which should not suffer delay in solution.

The immigration, present and prospective, to the Pacific Northwest is unparalleled in the history of this region, and that Oregon is destined during the next two years to secure the major portion of the whole number of arrivals no one acquainted with the facts in the case will dispute. The immigration, furthermore, is, on the whole, made up of a desirable class of people, whom we would be wise in persuading to cast their lot among us. If we are to accomplish this result, we must prepare, and that at once, suitable accommodations for their abode.

The house problem is not confined to the city of Portland. Every town throughout the Willamette valley feels a similar need. It is evident that the carpenter and his co-laborers, the plasterer, brick mason and painter, should be given a large contract speedily.

A Close Call for a California & Oregon Train.

A WILD BAR AT SAN FRANCISCO.

An English Pugilist Knocked Out—Stage Robbers Plead Guilty—The Fish Commission—A Big Water Scheme.

DELTA, Cal., March 19.—Three engines and a large crew of workmen labored all night and all this forenoon to get the engine of yesterday's south-bound passenger on the track. It left the rail on a curve in sight of Delta, a quarter of a mile north of town. The river at that point has washed out the railroad embankment until the ends of the ties project over the precipitous bank of the river. Engineer Gardner stopped the train in half a car length. Had he not had the engine and train under perfect control, they would have plunged over the bank into the river. The lower side of the track had sunk so much that the engines had to be raised up and a new track built. The work was completed at 10:30 o'clock this morning and all the trains are leaving. Yesterday's north-bound passenger was delayed here until the wreck was cleared. The weather is still unsettled. Gangs of workmen line the road between Delta and Sims night and day.

A WILD BAR.

Many Vessels Still Storm-Bound at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—The bar at the entrance to the Golden Gate is still breaking badly, and although the gale has moderated, bar-bound vessels are prevented from leaving the harbor until more favorable reports can be obtained as to the condition of the bar. The steamer Eva arrived off the heads this morning, after seventeen days of stormy passage from Kahului. When crossing the bar three heavy seas washed her decks, smashing in her stern railing and damaging her wheel. The man at the wheel was caught in the wreck of the railing and was severely injured. The captain of the vessel considers his experience a narrow escape from total destruction of the Eva.

THE ENGLISHMAN KNOCKED OUT.

Sixteen Terrific Rounds Fought at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A glove contest between Jimmie Carroll, formerly of Boston, and Sam Blakelock, of England, took place to-night in the rooms of the California Athletic Club. The men weighed 135 pounds each. Young Mitchell and George McDonald were Blakelock's seconds, and Sam Fitzpatrick and Tom Meadows acted for Carroll. Cook was chosen referee. Fifteen hundred people were present.

In the first two rounds the men sparred cautiously. Blakelock led, but Carroll avoided him.

In the third round Blakelock got in a sharp one on Carroll's mouth with his left, and in the fifth Carroll got in a heavy blow on Blakelock's nose, drawing first blood. Fierce fighting followed, Carroll doing the best work.

From the sixth to the tenth rounds considerable rushing was done, and honors were apparently even.

In the tenth round Carroll got in a terrific right-hander, knocking Blakelock down.

In the eleventh Carroll scored another knockdown, but the rushing pace told, and both men appeared weak.

In the twelfth round Blakelock came up fresh, but Carroll rushed him around the ring, bent on finishing him up. Sammy took his punishment bravely, showing considerable cleverness.

The thirteenth round opened with Blakelock groggy but plucky. Carroll got in a number of vicious upper cuts, Blakelock tapping him feebly.

In the fourteenth Carroll rushed his opponent, the latter clinching in an effort to save himself. Carroll whirled around, hitting the Englishman in the face, but he would not go down.

Sixteenth round—Carroll started in with a rush, giving blow after blow. Blakelock struggled manfully to hold his own, but Carroll was too strong for him, and finished his work with a terrific right-hander, laying the Englishman senseless.

The fight was an exceedingly plucky one from the start.

STAGE ROBBERS PLEAD GUILTY.

They Are Sentenced to Fifteen Years Each in San Quentin.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., March 19.—Prisoners Cuff and Stuzman were arraigned in the superior court this morning. They pleaded guilty to the stage robbery, and were each sentenced to fifteen years in San Quentin prison. The sheriff will take them to prison to-morrow.

The names of the men are C. Cuff and N. G. Stuzman. Both are young men, about twenty-six years old. Cuff came from Arkansas a year ago, and Stuzman from Kansas a year ago last August.

Together they devised the plan to rob the stage and get the money with which to go back East. They left Gilroy on the 11th inst., reaching Santa Margarita on Monday, and selected the place for the robbery. When they halted the stage Stuzman stayed in the brush to cover the driver. After the stage went on the pair gutted the express box, divided the amount secured, $32.90, and then footed it through the rain and mud to Templeton.

THE FISH COMMISSION.

A Vast Amount of Good Work Being Done for the Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Livingstone Stone, superintendent of the United States fish commission of the Pacific coast, who has just returned from McCloud river, reports success in the distribution and collection of eggs in the different rivers of the coast.

During the past year one million and a half of salmon eggs were taken from the McCloud river hatchery. Nearly all of the eggs were hatched and placed back in the stream.

He states that from the Willamette river near Oregon City, 5,000,000 salmon eggs were obtained during the fall. Of the 5,000,000, between 80 and 90 per cent. were hatched, and the fish put into the Clackamas river.

The commission has just received a carload of whitefish eggs from the Great Lakes, which will be distributed in the Columbia river and its tributaries, and the Coeur d'Alene lakes.

The commission expects soon to receive a carload each of whitefish, lobsters, eels and striped bass. Other carloads of fish eggs, of which the coast rivers lack sufficient quantities, are also expected to arrive.

Seven new stations have been established throughout the coast, and $140,000 has been expended in the construction of hatcheries, and in the collection of eggs and their hatching.

A BIG WATER PROJECT.

A Scheme to Supply Five California Cities From the Same Source.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Some of the members of the Oakland Board of Trade are nursing a project to get the cities of Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, Stockton and Sacramento to co-operate in a water scheme. It is to bring down from the mountains a big supply of water by tapping the Tuolumne river, twenty-five miles above Sonora. It is estimated that the cost, not including the pipes, would be $10,000,000.

There is some talk of getting up a meeting of authorized delegates from the cities named to consider the project.

THE CHINESE QUESTION AGAIN.

Residents of Hong Kong Appeal to the British Government.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Private advices received in this city from Sydney announce that the colonial government has been informed that the Chinese merchants and residents of Hong Kong have prepared a petition to the British government regarding the exclusion of the Chinese from America and Australia.

The petitioners assert that the action of the two governments means commercial ruin to Chinese Hong Kong merchants, and is not in accord with the international treaty. Recently Hong Kong residents presented a claim to the viceroy of the colony for damages through Hong Kong residents having been denied landing from vessels arriving in Victorian ports. The government refused to recognize the claim, and referred the matter to the premier, who has decided that as Victoria is self-governing, she has power to exclude aliens; and now a very important point has been raised as to whether British subjects of Hong Kong can be termed, under the provisions of the colonial law, "aliens."

Another question has also risen as to whether the Victoria government had the power to exclude Hong Kong residents without receiving the sanction of the imperial government.

TO BOOM CALIFORNIA.

The State Board of Trade Hold a Meeting to Discuss the Project.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A meeting of the executive committee of the state Board of Trade was held this afternoon. Word was received from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that affiliation with the board had been agreed upon, and that Major E. W. Jones had been chosen as a member of the executive committee.

W. H. Mills presented an outline of the plan for the establishment East of agencies of the executive committee, which could be made headquarters for the circulation of publications relating to the coast.

It is proposed to make permanent exhibitions in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Nashville, Chicago, Milwaukee and other leading cities of the country. The transportation of the products from here, the speaker said, could doubtless be secured free. The various counties could be depended upon to furnish products for twenty permanent exhibits. Those interested in the great land sales now being held throughout the state would readily furnish products from the localities which they desired to advertise.

General Manager Brown reported the continued success of the traveling exhibition East, and the work done relative to arranging for the traveling exhibition in Great Britain was reported in detail.

NOT IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY.

The Weight of the Discussion at Ottawa Against the Measure.

OTTAWA, March 19.—The budget debate was continued in parliament to-night. It is thought that Cartwright's resolution in favor of closer trade relations with the United States will undoubtedly be voted down by the government supporters, but such action will hardly indicate the feeling of the people.

The debate was resumed by Cockburn, of Toronto, who is firm in a national policy of protection and opposed to the schemes for unrestricted reciprocity or commercial union. He instituted comparisons to show that the various provinces of Canada are enjoying greater prosperity than the various states of the Union. He asserted that three-quarters of the farms in New York were mortgaged. America's alleged aristocracy, he said, lived only for boodle, and he had nothing to say about plutocracy. All the Americans wanted was to get the trade of Canada and give nothing in return. The resolutions of Congressman Hitt were endorsed by the Canadian liberals, who pretended to want only unrestricted reciprocity. The resolutions, continued the speaker, declared for commercial union, and this meant political union, and the liberals could not deny it. Commercial union would abolish the custom houses, and discriminate against England in return for her sacrifices in favor of Canada.

Continuing amid interruption, he held up the American political cartoon, in which the American flag triumphantly waved over the Union Jack and the forms of prostrated tradesmen. The Monroe doctrine will never be realized in America. The American Union could not enter into commercial reciprocity with Canada, because, if she did, it would be a violation of the treaties with other nations. Canada was not for sale, and, come what would, she would work out her own destiny.

Temple, liberal, came out in his reply in favor of unrestricted reciprocity.

Hon. James Haggart, postmaster general, went on to prove that unrestricted reciprocity and commercial union were one and the same thing, especially as they both required a common American tariff. This, he claimed, would be discriminating against England.

THE AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

FROM PILLAR TO POST.

The Oklahoma Boomers Leading a Sorry Life.

A LIVELY FIGHT WITH TROOPS.

Several Men Hurt, But No One Seriously—The Boomers Take Revenge on the Cattlemen—The Contest Over Indian Leases.

TOPEKA, March 19.—The United States attorney for Kansas has received telegrams from Oklahoma, stating that the boomers at that point had been fired upon by the regular troops. Further violence is hourly expected. The United States attorney has wired the deputy marshals [illegible] to prevent the [illegible] by arresting anybody [illegible] the law. The [illegible] claim the troops fired without orders, and ask that they be arrested for assault.

THE REPORT DENIED.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—A Times special from Oklahoma City reports everything quiet there this evening. United States troops are still driving out the "boomers." The only foundation for this afternoon's sensational reports as to a conflict between the troops and the invaders is that Lieutenant Carson was knocked down by a boomer yesterday, the offender being at once arrested. The Kansas United States attorney has no jurisdiction over Oklahoma, that territory being in charge of the United States attorney at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

BOOMERS RETALIATE ON CATTLEMEN.

GENDA SPRINGS, Kan., March 19.—Sunday morning cattlemen along the border for a great distance, on the Cherokee strip, awakened to find their fences all destroyed. Sunday night the work of destruction was renewed, and it is thought that stables, corrals and other property will go next. It is thought this is done in retaliation for the driving out of the boomers from the Creek and Seminole ceded lands. People here and at Arkansas City are quiet, and seem determined to stand loyally by the law and the presidential orders. They feel, however, that if the law-abiding are kept out all others should be, so that all may have an equal chance in the selection of lands.

THERE WAS A LIVELY SKIRMISH.

And a Number of Boomers and Soldiers Were Hurt.

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—The Republic's special from Wichita says: The Oklahoma boomers having fled to the woods upon the appearance of Lieutenant Carson and a body of soldiers, scouts were sent out to hunt them down, but were instructed not to resort to violence.

In what is known as the [illegible] country, northwest of Oklahoma station, quite a large number of the boomers had gathered around William Beck. Among the number were his daughter, a relative, Samuel Anderson, and an old man named Wm. Adams. Their property had been destroyed in a former raid, and they cherished bitter animosity against the troops. Their hiding place was discovered by an Indian scout and reported to Lieutenant Carson, who sent a detachment.

As soon as the boomers saw the troops coming they made preparations to stand their ground and protect themselves. When surrounded and called upon to surrender, they began parleying and made threats which exasperated the soldiers, who charged on the party. But seeing that the boomers were armed, and having orders to avoid a conflict, they dismounted and by an adroit movement on their part the boomers were relieved of their arms. Anderson and Adams, however, held out and made a desperate resistance with guns. The former received a terrible blow from the butt of a revolver, and the latter was struck in the mouth. After being disarmed, the boomers fought with clubs and stones, but were soon compelled to surrender. Several of the soldiers received light wounds, but none were serious.

There has been great excitement among the boomers since the conflict. While all expressed a determination to make a similar resistance, they are seeking for safer hiding places.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

Cattlemen Striving Hard to Hold Their Leases From the Indians.

CALDWELL, Kans., March 19.—The semi-annual meeting of the Cherokee Strip Live Stock Association was called to order this afternoon by President Hewins. J. B. Mayes, chief of the Cherokees, made an address in which he assured the members of the association that they need have no fear in regard to retaining possession of the lands; that they had leased it for five years, and there was nothing that could remove them, so long as they paid the rent.

After the speech, opportunity was given all those desiring to ask the chief questions. Among the questions asked was his opinion in regard to the Cherokee commissioners, to which he replied:

"That will amount to nothing. All they will do is to come down here and have a good time. We will not sell for $1.25 per acre."

Another question asked was what they would do if the soldiers attempted to remove them, to which Mayes replied:

"It will be an easy matter to stop that. If the soldiers attempt to put you out, all that will be necessary is to serve an injunction on them."

Another asked: "What will we do with the 'boomers?'"

Mayes replied: "We will take care of the boomers. You stay with us and we will stay with you."

At the conclusion of Mayes's speech, Snyder, a wealthy Kansas City cattleman, made a motion that the chief be elected an honorary member of the association, which carried without a dissenting vote.

President Heins then presented the situation as being most favorable in the history of the association.

To-morrow the regular election of officers takes place.

Notwithstanding the brave front put on by the leaders, good ranges can be bought for a great deal less than a few months ago.

THE AMERICAN PILGRIMS.

A Grand Dinner by the College in Honor of the Leaders.

ROME, March 19.—The American college gave a grand dinner this evening in honor of the leaders of the American pilgrims. Many prelates were present. Bishop Keane, president of the new Catholic university at Washington, spoke in English, Latin and French.

The pope's vicar, Cardinal Parocchi, delivered a powerful Latin oration in behalf of the pope. He expressed the pope's admiration for American institutions, and spoke of the deep interest taken by his holiness in the birth of the Washington university, which he regarded as one of the chief glories of his pontificate.

Cardinal [illegible] eulogized the Washington university as the crowning work of Christian education, a work that was destined to display America to the world as a living exemplification of perfect accord between the highest learning and science and the Catholic faith.

Monsignor Jacobini traced America's wonderful progress. He referred to the treasures of faith pushed forth by Catholic Ireland, and contrasted the strong and vigorous condition of American institutions and people, and of the Catholic church in America, with the sadly painful situation of the people and the church in the Old World.

SALISBURY'S TEETH ARE GOOD.

He Will Hold on Until the Commons Passes a Vote of Want of Confidence.

LONDON, March 19.—In an interview this evening Lord Salisbury stated that nothing short of a vote of want of confidence would bring the government to a premature end, and that those who thought otherwise were abusing themselves with vain dreams.

Lord Salisbury said he would not discuss the forged letters, or [illegible] matters of accusation against the Irish leaders, which were now before an eminently competent and impartial tribunal. The government had no interest in the letters. The commission had been appointed to consider far wider and more important charges. There had been a deal of public embracing of the Parnellite leaders, but before expressing an opinion he would wait for the judgment of the commission.

LONDON PRESS COMMENT.

A Scathing Editorial on Lord Salisbury's Recent Speech.

LONDON, March 19.—The Daily Telegraph, in commenting on Lord Salisbury's speech at Watford, says: "The prime minister's speech has sealed the fate of the government. He has drawn his sword and has thrown away the scabbard. He is drawn by the course of events into a state of desperate fury. Like Juno, he is glad to eat his enemies and to eat them raw. If Lord Salisbury were imprisoned for a technical breach of the law, and if any radical referred to him as he referred to O'Brien, the offender would deserve to be ignominiously hooted from the society of decent people."

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

OFFICE OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., ALBANY, January 28.

Messrs. Russell & Co., Portland, Oregon.—Gentlemen: Your letter of inquiry regarding the working of the sixty-horse power engine purchased of you at hand. In reply will say that the engine is all you recommend it, both as to power, regulation and economy. We are running one Schuyler arc-light dynamo, forty 2000-candle power lights, and one Heisler dynamo, the former requiring about thirty horse power and the latter twenty-five horse power. Both are fully loaded, and the friction can of absorb less than five-horse power, which is working the engine to its full guaranteed capacity, and the automatic regulation is so perfect that in plunging either dynamo in or out makes no perceptible difference in the speed; and we have started from cold water and run all night with one cord of wood. Respectfully, N. H. ALLEN.

THE NEW WAR VESSELS.

Only One Bid Received for the Construction of the Schooner Maine.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The only bid for the machinery of the cruiser Maine, that of N. F. Palmer, jr., & Co., of New York, has been referred to the bureau of steam engineering for examination, report and recommendation. The chiefs of the bureaus of ordnance, equipment and recruiting have been directed to proceed without delay to prepare plans for the construction of the new vessels authorized by the naval appropriation bill of the last session of congress, namely, one armored steel cruising monitor of not less than 3000 tons, the cost not exceeding $1,500,000, on plans designed by John R. Thomas; two steel cruisers of the most approved type, of 3000 to [illegible] tons displacement, to cost in the aggregate, exclusive of armament, not more than $700,000 and one ram for harbor defense, of a general type approved by the naval advisory board, November 17, 1881, of the highest practicable speed. Each bureau is to prepare the plans pertaining to it and the chiefs are to meet as often as necessary for the purpose of considering and settling upon the general characteristics of the vessels.

HE CALLED THEM "CATTLE."

Members of Mary Anderson's Company Indignant at Marcus Mayer's Treatment.

CHICAGO, March 19.—A Philadelphia special says: The English company which has been supporting Mary Anderson has been sent out of this city to New York. There were over fifty in the party and they left with vinegary feelings toward Marcus Mayer, the assistant manager. The cause for this lay in the following interview, which Mayer had with a reporter Saturday night. Mayer was asked: "What will become of the company?" "What's that got to do with me?" he asked. "You might as well ask me what becomes of the bellstocker. The company is nothing. You make me mad by asking such questions. Supposing the company should appear at the opera house Monday night, who would go to see that? Nobody. You newspaper people consider these cattle and ignore the star half the time. This is not proper. I am a newspaper man myself. As a matter of fact, Abbey will ship the company back to New York to-morrow, and will then ship those who want to go home back to England. A good many, I suppose, will try this country until the next season, when Miss Anderson may engage them."

Members of the company will present their grievances to the dramatic journals of New York and London and seek to boycott Mayer.

UNION PACIFIC MOVEMENTS.

A Direct Outlet to the Pacific Coast at or Near San Francisco Projected.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A Boston dispatch to the Herald says: Union Pacific affairs are in a curious shape again. There is an activity in the construction department strangely out of place in a company which has been posing as bankrupt, and asking congress for an extension of time for their debt. Surveying parties are out, and a number of new lines are projected. The most important is a direct outlet to the Pacific coast at or near San Francisco. Every man charged with the management of the company for years back, has recognized the necessity of such a road, and has tried to secure it.

RICHMOND, Va., March 19.—Private Jas. K. [illegible], an inmate of the confederate soldiers' home, now at the Point, tells a startling story. He says that when employed as diver in getting copper out of the wrecked confederate ram Merrimac in 1875 he dived into the forecastle and found the skeletons of two men, manacled to the floor. He supposed they were members of the crew incarcerated for violation of some rule, and when the craft was sunk were forgotten.

BOSTON, March 19.—The annual report of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad for 1888 shows in comparison with 1887 in gross earnings a decrease of $3,787,000; in expenses an increase of $2,785,000; net earnings, decrease, $6,572,000; dividends, decrease, $2,291,000.

The directors say that "after many prosperous years, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company, has experienced a year of serious reverses. After paying fixed charges, including $700,000 contributed to the sinking funds, and dividing 5 per cent. upon the capital stocks, the books show a deficiency for the year of $4,331,000, which it has been necessary to take from the accumulated surplus of the company." The report attributes this to the engineers strike, and to the operation of the interstate law.

PRIVATE WORDS FOR WOMEN

The [illegible] and successful electro-magnetic physicians, Drs. Darrin, have discovered and perfected a system of treatment that has caused a revolution in the treatment of female diseases. Wherever their treatment is tested and known it has done away with all dosing with nauseous drugs and surgical operations whereby so many precious lives have been lost.

As a discovery it ranks with Harvey's discovery of the circulation of the blood. It has proved in more than a thousand cases of the worst kind to be a positive cure for the following female diseases: Ovarian tumors, polypus, ulceration and dropsy of womb, inflammation, congestion and falling of womb, leucorrhoea, painful and suppressed menstruation, flooding, frequent urination, bearing down pains, backache, headache, hacking cough, melancholy, absence of ambition or desire to live, or, in fact, any complaint having its origin in a disordered state of the generative and accompanying organs, whether from contagious diseases, hereditary, accident, tight-lacing, miscarriage or other causes.

Their method of treatment is harmless, pleasant and [illegible] It is applied directly to the womb without the use of instruments, can be applied by the patients themselves, thus securing correct local treatment at home, and its application is easy and simple. Its curative action on the inflamed, congested and ulcerated parts is immediate.

Drs. Darrin refrain from making public the names of hundreds of ladies who have been restored to health, with due deference to the delicacy of their afflictions.

Dr Darrin's Place of Business.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at [illegible] Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland. Office hours, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhoea, stricture, spermatorrhoea, seminal weakness or loss of desire of sexual power in man or woman, catarrh and deafness. Cured confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed and never published in the papers. Circulars sent free. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office.

The offices at Salem and Eugene City are closed. Any persons under treatment in that vicinity can call or write to the Portland office.

If the second payment failed there was no sale. Then they boomed Newark, W. T., in the newspapers and by placards [illegible] to see for his fee, which [illegible]"

In referring to the increase of population of the new state I am reminded of the great influx of foreign immigrants and how quickly the public domain is disappearing and the rush [illegible] at the [illegible] increasing. Oftimes as high as a score in a day apply to the register of the land office at [illegible] eligible lands, but before they can file [illegible] must declare their intentions of becoming citizens of the United States. The courts are full of applicants for their papers of citizenship every day, many of them persons who one would think [illegible] but for the fact that they can get 160 acres of land along with it. So great has been the rush during the last six months that the large government land left in the vicinity of [illegible] County, on Vashon and Maury's islands, containing [illegible] 1000 acres, all of Uncle Sam's land [illegible] been filed on, but not all proved up. [illegible] Mason and Kitsap counties there are large [illegible] which have not yet been taken up [illegible] out of the way of regular travel and [illegible]. This is a great country to make [illegible] citizenship and practically [illegible] 160 acres of land at the same time [illegible] as intimated by President [illegible]. It would have been [illegible] the [illegible] of the family with fifty [illegible] outright in the territories of the Union and let them work out their [illegible] on that way, [illegible] all the [illegible] of the people to those who do not understand [illegible] language or customs. [illegible] by the way, is a [illegible] among the democratic senators [illegible] in the state [illegible] where Walker Blaine [illegible] his distinguished father. [illegible] of the enemies of Grant (Vance among them) [illegible] when he appointed his own relatives to office.

At last the site of the big town on Gray's harbor has been decided upon. That town must be the terminus of the Tacoma, Olympia & Gray's Harbor railway, now being surveyed from Centralia westward.

George H. Emerson, of the Northwestern Lumber company at Hoquiam on Gray's Harbor, has been here for several days in consultation with ex-Governor Marshall, of Minnesota, General [illegible] Pillsbury, representing the Charlemagne Tower, of Philadelphia, the largest individual land holder in Washington territory, Chester A. Congdon and Mr Spencer, of St Paul, Mr [illegible] of Chicago and others, representing the capitalists engaged in the railroad enterprise. Mr Emerson gave THE OREGONIAN correspondent the exclusive information that the capitalists named above had selected a site for the great city on Gray's Harbor at a point below Hoquiam. They have purchased from Mr Emerson and his associates to-day 1000 acres of land stretching along Gray's harbor from one to five miles below Hoquiam on the north side and below the first bar from the [illegible]. This will at high tide always have thirty feet of water all the way to the townsite from the open ocean, and if the government will dredge the outside bar will always have that at low tide.

The townsite always talked of on Gray's Harbor is at Ned's rocks, some three or four miles further west, but this purchase settles the matter. Mr Emerson declined to state the terms of the sale.

Articles of incorporation of the West Coast Fire & Marine Insurance Company's bank were filed to-day with a capital of $[illegible]00,000.

The city council unexpectedly held a special meeting last night which they kept secret from the reporters of all the papers, and it was only accidentally discovered that at that meeting they gave away property of the city to a street railway company worth $40,000, in vacating certain streets without notice to citizens.

The only officer in the territory who is holding over his term having expired two months ago, is Secretary N. H. Owings. Many think he has a right to expect that he will be reappointed to fill the remaining two months term before statehood arrives, but it is said that Delegate Allen favors the appointment of O. C. White, of Columbia county. It is the greatest wonder in the world that some Southern senator did not have [illegible] to put in Colonel Owings's place long ago. The latter is a practical exemplification of civil service reform as it should be. When you have a faithful officer keep him. C. M. B.

BENEFIT OF CABLE RAILWAY LINES.

They Build Up the City and Return a Big Profit for the Money Invested

"Considering the advantages and resources of Portland it is surprising that a cable railroad has not been built [illegible] long before this," said a well known capitalist [illegible] yesterday. "There are several streets on which roads could be built and [illegible]. Among them I might [illegible] First [illegible] Sixth, Twelfth, Washington, Morrison [illegible] First street [illegible] by all means. It is the principal retail street in the city, corresponding to Market street in San Francisco, which has both street [illegible]. Cable systems on Washington and Third streets with branches reaching both northwestern and southwestern parts of the city would do a great deal of good. The lines add to the life of a city and I do not know of one that has failed to return a [illegible] on the money invested."

EAST PORTLAND RAILWAYS.

They Will Soon Be Extended in Every Direction.

A Chinese Row—Dr Driver's New Position—Remonstrance Against a County Saloon—Petition for a Sewer on G Street

From the appearance of things inside of one year there will be street railways extending into the suburbs of East Portland in almost every direction. It is said on good authority, that the ordinance introduced in the city council Monday night means a motor line to Sellwood and Milwaukie, that the parties interested mean business and will commence work as soon as the right to go so has been secured. As the proposed line will extend through a rich country and tap the towns of Sellwood and Milwaukie there can be no doubt but that it will pay.

The work of grading the roadbed for motor line extension from Sunnyside to Mount Tabor is now in progress. About a half a mile has been graded and the work will be pushed with all possible energy.

When the lines to Sellwood and Milwaukie and Mount Tabor have been completed almost every suburb will then be within easy reach.

PETITION DEFERRED

It was expected that a petition would be presented to the city council Monday night, asking that a sewer pipe be laid on G street and that this street be improved, but it was deferred until the next meeting. It is an important and much needed improvement. This is especially true of the sewer, which is a beginning in the right direction. In this case as in all others there are some who are endeavoring to retard and jeopardize this improvement. It is to be hoped that the [illegible] is still the [illegible] of the citizens on that street to push the improvement through. After all, it depends on the property owners whether an improvement shall be made or not.

A REMONSTRANCE

There seems to be a general desire that the low dive near Midway, on the Milwaukie road, should be closed up, and to this end a remonstrance has [illegible] been presented to the county [illegible] asking that the license [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] disturbing [illegible] [illegible] all over the place.

CHINESE ROW

A Chinese row took place in the wash house on the corner of [illegible] last evening at about [illegible] o'clock. The [illegible] the uproar was [illegible] sufficient that the row was [illegible] inside. [illegible] appeared to be [illegible] knocking [illegible] right and left. It was not ascertained [illegible] badly hurt [illegible] and [illegible] was serene about the whole house.

RELEASED

The quarterly conference has released Rev. T. D. Driver from his charge of the M. E. church that he may enter upon his duties as the financial agent of the Methodist hospital. He will enter upon his new duties about April 1. A committee has been appointed to select a new pastor to take charge of the work here. It may be that a pastor may not be secured until conference convenes and the place will be supplied until that time.

REPORT DENIED

It was reported some time ago that Mrs J. Kellogg, who removed from East Portland to Medford for her health, was very sick and many got the impression that she had died. This report was entirely incorrect, as it is ascertained that she is well and in the enjoyment of good health. This will be good news to her friends in East Portland.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

Mrs Eutrow and Mrs W. White, of Oregon City, are in the city on a visit with friends.

Mr A. McGuire is quite ill with lung trouble, and it may be necessary for him to go to California.

To-day the county court will decide whether it will take any action to reduce the rates charged by the bridge and ferry.

Mr J. J. Kaddely has just returned from an extended Eastern tour. He is much improved in health and glad to get back.

D. J. Lawton, who removed to Medford about two years ago, is in the city on business. He went to Southern Oregon for his health and his desires were fully realized.

"A PERMANENT TRUTH"

SALEM, March 18.

To the Editor of THE OREGONIAN:

Under the above heading you have in to-day's issue of your paper, an article on the water bond question in which you state that "a tax upon the bonds is not a tax upon the bondholder but on the necessities of the people," and that "the bondholder eventually escapes it (the tax), since he always has means of doing so and there is no way to reach him." If it be true, as you assert, that the bondholder invariably escapes taxation and that there is no way to reach him, it would not make one bit of difference to him whether the bonds were taxed or not, and he could therefore afford to pay as much in the one case as in the other. Are you not hoisting yourself by your own petard? Have you not yourself demolished your own argument? If it be true, as you assert, that there is no way to reach the bondholder in order to make him pay on his wealth, is it not a virtual expression that such a thing as "equal taxation" is a failure and that hereafter the poor alone must be taxed and the bondholder exempted? If so, is not our government a failure? You assert when the bonds are paid out to private parties that they are not private property "in the ordinary sense." What do you mean? They are private property sufficiently enough to empower the owners to collect the coupons and place the proceeds in their private pockets. This is the ordinary way which bondholders have of collecting interest from bonds which really are private property "in the ordinary sense." You have made a distinction without a difference. Your allusions to demagogues and fools and to persons possessed of only demagogic intelligence and [illegible] will not be noticed, as they are not arguments but only the sure indications of the lack of arguments.

The Offending Adam

Chicago Times.

General Adam Badeau is a bad egg. He claimed to have written General Grant's memoirs and proved he did not by writing a book called "Grant in Peace." Anybody who reads the two books will be convinced that Badeau did not write a line of the old hero's autobiography. Now Badeau wants the publisher of Grant's memoirs to pay him $20,000 because the latter refused to print his (Badeau's) book. There is a great deal of the "old Adam" in Badeau.

EDENDALE Lies on the Sunnyside Motor line, a short distance beyond Sunnyside, and in the midst of gardens, orchards and meadows, where the song birds love to congregate. Lying so near the Base Line road (the one great turnpike leading straight from the business heart of the city to the justly celebrated Mount Tabor) the lots in Edendale are admirably located to feel the effects of the growth of the city, which must be rapid along this great artery of travel.

Every lot in Edendale is a garden spot, covered not with stumps and brush and trees, but with clover and wild flowers, where the meadow lark loves to pour fourth his sweetest songs.

On every lot in Edendale you can get pure, sparkling water at from 10 to 15 feet from the surface. Every lot in Edendale (pause here ye intending buyers) will have a fine, 4-plank sidewalk connecting it with the motor line, so that you can step from the elegant cars upon a clean sidewalk and go to any lot in this favored park without getting your shoes soiled. This is being done now so that there shall be no expense to the buyer for sidewalks and no vexatious delays in getting scores of neighbors to agree upon the kind of sidewalks and the time of laying them.

No lot in Edendale is farther than 100 paces from the Sunnyside motor, which will be completed to the tract in two weeks. The lots will range in price from $200 to $1000, half cash, and can be had on and after Thursday morning, 21st inst., of PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20.

REMARKABLE DEFEAT.

The details of the prohibition defeat in New Hampshire, as we find them in our New England exchanges, show a remarkable change in public sentiment. The prohibitionists worked hard and were confident of victory. The result shows that party lines were badly broken. Republican strongholds returned majorities against the amendment despite the fact that William E. Chandler worked hard to carry the prohibition amendment. Men of both parties in the large towns voted against the amendment. The latest returns indicate that the prohibitory amendment is defeated by 5000 votes while all the other amendments are adopted. This remarkable result we attribute to the fact that Massachusetts has also been discussing the wisdom of constitutional prohibition, for the votes on the adoption of a similar amendment early next month. The local press of New Hampshire is so feeble that the great dailies of Boston and the Springfield Republican are everywhere taken and really shape public opinion by their intelligent and able discussion of important public questions. The press of Massachusetts, that stands for ability and influence, is a unit against prohibition, and the republicans of the large towns of New Hampshire have voted with the Massachusetts press in spite of William E. Chandler and the prohibition praying temperance bands and braying reformed drunkards. The truth is that the "Major Hilton" temperance campaign tactics have gradually fallen into contempt the country over, and the extreme East begins to give them the same reception that they get on the Pacific coast.

At the same time that the prohibition canvass was raging in New Hampshire, came the frightful exposure of the prohibition failure in Rhode Island, and the consequent action of its legislature in taking the first step toward the certain repeal of the prohibitory amendment, which was hastily adopted in the spring of 1886. The legislation preliminary to submitting the question again to the people, has passed both the upper and lower houses. This process must be repeated in the next general assembly and at the spring election of 1891, a three-fifths vote can wipe out this vicious constitutional prohibition. The evidence which persuaded the Rhode Island legislature, by a vote of nearly two to one to move for the repeal of this amendment, proved that prohibition in Rhode Island had become an unutterable farce. The sale of liquor in Providence was as free as in New York city, save that there were not outward signs over the doors. The number of United States liquor licenses had doubled. The city police declined to neglect the protection of life and property by devoting their whole time to enforcing prohibition, and the state police, whose special duty it was to arrest liquor dealers and seize and destroy liquors proved with few exceptions to be frauds, sneaks, blackmailers, and perjurers all combined. No less man than U. S. Senator Aldrich has strongly urged the resubmission of the constitutional amendment to the people. Senator Chace, who has just resigned his seat, is a prohibitionist, and his resignation is probably due to the fact that he finds himself overwhelmingly in the minority within his party.

In Massachusetts the prohibition constitutional amendment is opposed by Professor James B. Thayer, of the Harvard law school, who writes: "Our state constitutions were not made to be codes of laws, or to embody the opinion of a momentary majority upon an entirely unsettled question, like this of the best way to deal with the drink question. The process of using constitutions in this way is a process of degradation from the example of our fathers." Professor Thayer takes exactly the same ground taken by THE OREGONIAN on the prohibition campaign of 1887, viz: That it is absurd to inject into the fundamental law prohibitions which, if practicable at all, can succeed through the operation of statute law. The prohibitory amendment can do nothing for prohibition which cannot be done by a statute, as is proved by the experience of Rhode Island, where after three years of life the republicans are moving to strike it off the books. Professor Thayer argues that the constitution should not be a mere blackboard on which are chalked the mental vicissitudes of cranks and doctrinaires inebriated by the quality of their own rant and racket. A constitution, in the words of Professor Thayer, should "stand on a higher and more permanent footing than the statute law, and should be the guaranty and charter of a few simple, well-established, uncontroverted principles." He also says that while he has voted three times for prohibition in local elections he is opposed to constitutional prohibition for three reasons, first, because it is a misuse of the constitution; second, because "it is not the time to do the thing even if it should ever be done;" and third, because "prohibition in any form, except as a local and temporary policy, as a feeling of the way to something better, is but a poor mode of dealing with the liquor question."

Colonel Thomas W. Higginson, R. H. Dana and William E. Russell, who are in the first rank of Massachusetts public men, expressed their agreement with Professor Thayer's views and unite in opposing constitutional prohibition. The dispatches of yesterday morning quoted the Catholic Total Abstinence News, of Philadelphia, and Archbishop Ryan, against prohibition. The press of Philadelphia confesses that the action of New Hampshire in defeating the prohibition amendment, the steps taken by Rhode Island to expunge it from her books and the sure defeat that seems to await it in Massachusetts next month will exert great influence upon the decision of Pennsylvania in July next, when that state will vote upon a prohibitory amendment.

The curious thing in all this contest at the East is the spectacle of the old states of the Atlantic sea board fighting over a question that is old straw with them, but which Oregon rejected as worthless the moment it was fairly presented for discussion, deliberation and decision.

DESIRABLE IMMIGRANTS.

During the year last a total of 370,522 immigrants landed at Castle Garden. Among the many nationalities the Germans preponderated. The Irish came next, closely pressed by the Italians. There were but five Chinese. Of the total number, 255,505 were between the ages of 15 and 40, and 57,518 were under the age first named.

There is hope and prosperity in such an immigration as this. Persons past the age of 40 years do not transplant well. That is to say, they do not readily accommodate themselves to new conditions and surroundings, are comparatively slow in making friends and waste their energies in homesickness. This is true, even of people who break up, and move to a different section of their own country. But to young persons the novelty of the change is inviting, and before this wears off they begin to feel at home and do not care to return to the old locality. For this reason, especially, the country has cause to congratulate itself upon young blood by immigration. There is nothing more pitiful, and at the same time more tiresome, than the steady plaint of the homesick soul, that looks longingly backward toward the scenes in which its most active life was passed, unable to return to them. It is next to impossible for persons so filled with discontent to prosper in the new home, since their energies are wasted in fruitless longings.

Of the emigrants under 15 years of age who land at Castle Garden a very large percentage can be calculated among the useful, contented and prosperous citizens of the country two decades hence. They may, and in many instances will be, hampered in opportunity by thriftless and irresponsible parents; but with the doors of our public schools standing open, avenues of industry upon every hand, and the broad and mighty West awaiting the development of its yet unguessed resources, there is a wide and ever widening field for youthful endeavor, the possession of which is a matter of certainty, to the rising generation, whether native or foreign born.

TOO PLAIN FOR ARGUMENT.

In dealing with an important question it is necessary to consider all parts of it. Mere theories, supported without regard to actual facts, always lead into error.

These remarks apply to a correspondent of THE OREGONIAN, who to-day endeavors to answer the position taken by this paper on the taxation of public credits. He thinks THE OREGONIAN is "hoist by its own petard," since it says that the bondholder invariably escapes taxation and there is no way to reach him. If this is so, inquires "X," how can the proposition to tax hurt the sale of the bonds?

Simply by cutting off competition at home for the bonds, and driving them wholly out of the state. If the bonds are to be taxed at home they will go abroad where they cannot be reached; and yet if they could be taken and held at home there would be a demand for a considerable part of them, since they could be used here as trust deposits and in similar ways. Insurance companies doing business in the state would take a large part of them for deposit with the state treasurer. There would be a strong demand for them for this and similar uses within the state; but if the bonds are to be taxed they will be unavailable for these purposes; they cannot be taken and held in the state, but will be bought in California or the East. But, as Portland's experience has already shown, bids from abroad are not nearly so good for untaxed bonds as bids at home.

The bondholder will not pay a tax; he will take his bonds out of the state, and a use to which they could be put here will be supplied by United States bonds, which cannot be taxed. Hence the bonds will always escape taxation, while the effort to tax them will only hurt their sale by cutting off home competition.

These facts are plain to everybody except the hobbyist. He cannot see them, because he can see only one thing at a time, and therefore is incapable of rational judgment.

THE OREGONIAN has said that public bonds "do not become private property in the ordinary sense," and is asked what it means. It simply means that bonds are a necessary method or instrument which a city or a state must employ to make its credit available; and therefore they are not private property in the sense that one man's note to another is private property. Every person of sense sees the distinction.

Further, it is observed that THE OREGONIAN's remarks about "demagogues and fools" are "not arguments." They are not arguments, perhaps, except as facts, or truisms, are arguments. There is no argument in a naked proposition of geometry. But there may be a deal of fact.

* * *

It is understood that John P. Ward owes his appointment as U. S. appraiser to the fact that C. S. Schenck had sent in his resignation. The office is one to which there is no fixed term, though Schenck had filled it about four years. It is not supposed by those who have the best opportunity of knowing the president's mind that he will make many removals. New appointments will be made chiefly as terms expire or officials resign. There will be exceptions, of course, and there ought to be exceptions.

An aged man attempted suicide in Linn county a few days ago because he was of no further use in the world. The housewife, when called to the kitchen door for the sixth time within two hours to bestow food upon an ill-favored tramp, may be pardoned for wishing that some men, much younger than this aged and disconsolate suicide, had a little of his pluck.

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

BY WOULDN'T PAY FOR THE WASH.—The shrill [illegible] police whistles attracted several [illegible] persons to a Chinese wash house situated [illegible] south side of Yamhill street between Third [illegible] Fourth at [illegible] P M yesterday where the [illegible] [illegible] to be The trouble seemed to be [illegible] which a seedy looking individual [illegible] to pay the laundryman for his week's [illegible] which amounted to a little over a pair [illegible] On his refusal to pay for his washing [illegible] proprietor of the laundry, a large powerful [illegible] seized and locked the door and then proceeded to do up his man in true pugilistic style. At [illegible] same time three of the occupants of the house threw up as many windows and commenced [illegible] large number of [illegible] After the [illegible] about fifteen minutes an [illegible] arrived on the scene and dragged the white [illegible] from his [illegible] position [illegible] followed and the white man [illegible] so excited from his rough treatment that [illegible] hardly articulate was let go with the [illegible] to always pay his [illegible] bill especially when it only amounts to 10 cents

CHINESE THEATER [illegible]—Owing to some trouble in the management of the Chinese theater this place of amusement has been closed for the past three or four weeks. It is stated that Lee [illegible] who was formerly lessee of the theater has been anxious either to regain possession of it or go in partnership with Lee Fing the present manager. Lee Fing was not over anxious to enter into any such contract with Lee Loy neither did he wish to give up the management of the theater entirely. The result was that Lee Loy engaged nearly all of the old actors and the theater was closed up. This step was [illegible] by Lee Loy [illegible] that his rival would be unable to get his [illegible] [illegible] he (Lee Loy) could regain possession of the theater. The indications [illegible] that there will be two Chinese theaters in the place of one. Lee Fing [illegible] stated has engaged fourteen new actors from San Francisco [illegible] will reopen the theater in a short time while Lee Loy is thinking of opening a theater on Alder street and there use the theatrical talent he has under contract.

CEDAR [illegible] REDWOOD.—Cedar lumber is getting high in price not [illegible] much [illegible] scarcity of cedar timber [illegible] account of the small number of mills [illegible] being able to keep the supply up to the demand. A schooner load of redwood lumber was received here from San Francisco [illegible] time since and another has been ordered. This lumber is used for [illegible] finishing [illegible] will have the effect of keeping down the price of cedar. The large dry house built here [illegible] for a company who intend to [illegible] cedar and shingles and manufacture all kinds of fancy shingles will be ready for operation in a few days. Cedar lumber is of all prices according to quality but the kind used for inside finishing may be quoted at $35 to $40 per thousand and imported redwood sells for about the same price. The great amount of building to be done this summer will cause a great demand for finishing lumber and if our own mills cannot supply it, it will have to be imported

PRESENTED A BADGE.—Mr Edward Holman Monday night was made the happy recipient of a handsome past master's badge presented by Willamette Lodge No 2 of which organization he was master during 1888. The presentation speech was made by Mr Thomas Gray, and Mr Holman who was completely taken by surprise, responded in a happy vein. The badge consists of a gold square and compass fastened to a blue satin ribbon to which is attached a gold end piece with pins for fastening it to the coat. On the blue ribbon there is the letter "G" set with a number of small diamonds, while the emblem of a sun at the intersection of the square and compass is surmounted with one large brilliant. On the reverse side of the badge is the inscription "Presented by the members of Willamette Lodge No 2 A F & A M December ?, 1888 to Edward Holman, W M, 1888 Memoria in aeterna"

A NEW BATCH OF M. D.'s.—The last term of the medical department of the Willamette University for the year 1888-89 is drawing to a close. The commencement exercises will take place at the college building Monday April 1 and the final examination in which four [illegible] hopeful [illegible] will compete for class honors is to take place a few days before that. There will also be a meeting of the graduates of the college at [illegible] o'clock in the afternoon of the same day to organize an alumni association. The college has already graduated over 100 full fledged physicians, and for the purpose of furthering the ends of friendship and good fellowship in the profession the need of annual reunions is apparent. These reunions are only kept up and successfully maintained by organized alumni associations and such an association the graduates propose to have

HOSPITAL WARD AT CHILDREN'S HOME.—A hospital ward is to be built at the Children's Home. This has been a long needed addition, for should any contagious disease break out in the home without a hospital ward there would be no way of isolating the children who are sick from those who are well and necessarily all would have to be kept out of school. The idea of building this hospital ward is to meet any emergency of this kind. The building is to be erected in the south west corner of the block and will be entirely detached from the main building. The dimensions of the proposed building are 24x30 feet, and the cost is estimated at $2,000. Mr William Wadhams who is one of the Home's firmest friends states that work on the building will be commenced within two weeks.

THE MOUNT TABOR LINE.—The franchise which the county commissioners granted the Willamette Bridge Railway Company to extend its line to Mount Tabor gives it the use of the following streets. Along O street in Sunnyside across Gittin avenue and along O street in Hartsch Park addition to East Portland, across county road No 101 and extending along the east side of the addition along Ash street, and across Myrtle avenue, Palm and Cherry streets in Paradise Springs tract also along the county road extending along the east side of the tract, thence along Fairmount avenue in Mount Tabor across county road No 49 extending along the east side of Mount Tabor, thence across county road No 398

DEATH OF SENATOR HOULT.—The dispatches yesterday announced the death at Harrisburg the previous day of Hon Enoch Hoult, at the age of [illegible] years. He was born in Monongahela county, West Virginia, April 18 18[illegible]. When he came to Oregon he settled in Lane county but in 1863 he moved to Linn county and became a resident of Harrisburg, where he lived until his death. He was a member, from Lane county, of the constitutional convention of 1857. In 1870 and 1882 he was elected to the state senate from Linn county. He was married in 1842 to Miss Jeanette Somers, who died in 1873. Mr Hoult was always a zealous laborer in the interest of education

FUNERAL OF C. C. SCOTT.—The funeral of the late C. C. Scott took place from the Gilman house at 11 M yesterday. In the morning the body was removed from the apartments of the deceased to the parlor where the services were held, conducted by Rev T L Eliot pastor of the Unitarian church. The floral contributions were numerous and very beautiful. At the conclusion of the services the body was taken to Lone Fir and buried. The pall bearers were Edward C Moore, Henry Fleckenstein, Thomas [illegible], [illegible] H [illegible], A Mayer, T Johnston, [illegible] [illegible] Stevens, [illegible] Goodman, T [illegible] Colbert, George Cleveland and H W Heath

ARE CARPENTERS SCARCE?—It is claimed by some that there is a great scarcity of carpenters in the city. A member of the craft however says that there is no such scarcity and that he can [illegible] fifty [illegible] on a few hours notice. A gentleman interested in immigration says there are numbers of carpenters at the East only waiting for a little encouragement to come out here at once. If there is need of more carpenters there will also be need of more bricklayers and more painters etc. and from the present demand for houses it is likely there will before long be a demand for more craftsmen of all kinds employed in house building.

PROMPT RELIEF.—Word was sent to this city Monday evening that a family named Brewer consisting of the father and mother and thirteen children, had been burned out at the Cascades losing all their clothing and effects leaving them entirely destitute. Several charitably disposed persons took the matter in hand and acted with such promptness that last evening four large boxes of clothing and a sum of money were shipped to the Cascades for the relief of the little colony of Brewers

HURT BY A BOULDER.—Mr H S Cypher who has had charge of the work at the quarries at Fisher's landing on the Columbia where rock is supplied for the jetty at the mouth of the river met with a very painful accident a few days since. A large boulder rolled against his left leg striking him on the knee cap causing an injury which gives him great pain. He is now at the St. Charles under treatment of a surgeon and it is doubtful if he will be able to resume his duties for a month

TOURISTS PASSING THROUGH.—Mr A B Stickney the St Paul railway magnate arrived here Monday evening in his special car over the O & C with a party of ladies with whom he has been making a tour of California. The party registered at the St Charles and left yesterday over the Northern Pacific. Mr Stickney after getting rich in mill enterprises then branched out in the railroad business and is now set down as a ten millionaire among the moneyed men of St. Paul.

A MAJOR ELECTED.—At a meeting of the line officers at the Armory Monday evening Colonel C F Beebe presiding, Captain R B Tuttle of Company A was unanimously elected major of the regiment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Major H C Johnson. The choice was made with much enthusiasm by Captain Tuttle's brother officers as it is unanimously conceded that Major Tuttle is the right man in the right place.

THE MARKING AND CRAMMING SYSTEM

The Oregonian has repeatedly protested against the present cramming system in schools. The special committee of the board of education of New York city has prepared a report in favor of abolishing the present marks system. It recommends also the abolition of the system of examinations for promotion except in cases of doubt as to the proficiency of the pupils or when parents are dissatisfied with a pupil's failure to be promoted. The new rules mark the [illegible] of a vastly needed reform in our public schools. The present system of marking every recitation and preparing for examinations [illegible] the New [illegible] the pupil [illegible].

[illegible] to [illegible] work is inflicted [illegible] with [illegible] of [illegible] poor results.

The New York board of education proposes to substitute for this system of marks on recitations and examinations the teacher's judgment as the record of proficiency to which each pupil is entitled, such record to be made up from week to week from the general knowledge of the teacher supplemented by such memoranda as he chooses to make. Under the new New York board of education rules the Times says that the pupil's work is to be reported as "perfect," "imperfect" or a "failure" in the various studies pursued, and account can be taken of genuine fidelity and improvement as well as mere glibness in reciting particular lessons. When a year's work is concluded the question of promotion becomes one of actual fitness for the higher grade of studies ascertained by the real progress of the pupil and not by a capacity for cramming for an examination.

This change of method enables a teacher to determine whether a pupil is prepared for promotion and understands thoroughness rather than rapid advancement is sought. Under the cramming system of examination the superficial, fluent, glib pupil gifted with a good memory can escape the consequences of weeks of idleness and want of understanding and secure promotion while utterly unprepared and unworthy of it in the judgment of his daily teacher.

This is the system adopted in the schools of France and Germany, and we think Amherst college has adopted it. The advantage of this system is that both teacher and pupil become more interesting to each other. The teacher strives to induce his pupils to learn for the sake of learning rather than to attain a certain mark by accurate memorizing, and the pupil is no longer diverted from understanding rather than merely memorizing the subject in hand. He is not scheming for "marks"; he is trying thoroughly to comprehend his studies. Scholars in French and German schools are more thoroughly educated than in our American schools and in a far shorter time because the teachers place more stress on the pupil's clear understanding of what he has been taught than upon the mere parrot memorizing of rules and maxims.

There is one great advantage in this change of method, viz: the premium [illegible] to promotion by mere successful cramming for examination [illegible] a steady, sensible, hard working pupil who might have an excellent understanding of principles but a poor verbal memory would not lose the promotion he had fairly won. The teacher would know that the glib talker who was crammed for a spurt of speed was unfit and unworthy, while the scholar who lacked fluent expression and powerful verbal memory might have a perfect understanding of all the knowledge he had acquired.

The trouble with our modern system of education is that when children pass from the primary school to the grammar and other higher schools they are taught altogether too many things at a time and nothing with thoroughness. There is a vast number of children who are injured rather than helped by so-called higher education that severely tests the memory and tests the understanding not at all. If the understanding were stimulated and exercised either the pupil would amount to something or he would drop out of the higher school as he ought. Self-educated men and women are usually thorough scholars because they are not diverted from their desire to master a subject by any worry about daily marks or periodical examinations. Beyond the rudiments of reading, writing, arithmetic and local geography, which are absolutely essential to the conduct of ordinary life, we think it is safe to say that it is a bane rather than a blessing to the state to educate any boy or girl whose thirst for knowledge would not be eager and insatiable even if there were no marks and no periodical examinations. Higher education does not make men or women moral, but it does help to heat some of the irons of iniquity that every bad man always has in his fire. The New York Sun, arguing against an educational qualification as a cure for the political impurity of the South, aptly says: "To suppose that the simplest educational qualification, the ability to read and write, will make its possessor less inclined to pecuniary dishonesty, less unwilling to sell his vote, is to suppose a self-evident absurdity. Men are not purified by learning to make pothooks and do sums in the rule of three, and politics is not to be purified by primary schools." Not that education is not a most important and desirable thing and neglect of it a fatal drawback to the progress of a modern commonwealth, but it is not a panacea for every moral ill to which modern states are subject.

GOOD APPOINTMENTS.

President Harrison thus far has made excellent appointments both foreign and domestic. The Samoan conference at Berlin includes Kasson, who served ten years in congress and was minister to Austria and to Berlin. He was a great favorite with Bismarck and on his return contributed a fine article concerning that great man to the North American Review. Wm. Walter Phelps, also a member of this conference, was minister to Austria under Garfield, has served several terms in congress and is a lawyer of exceptional ability. The new minister to Switzerland, John D. Washburn, is a gentleman of fine education, handsome presence and excellent public talents. Ex-United States Senator Palmer of Michigan, who has been appointed minister to Spain, spent several years of his young manhood in that country and speaks the Spanish language with accuracy and fluency. Ex-Governor Porter, who goes to Italy, is an admirable appointment. The appointments of General Tyner and General Hazen to the post office department are assurance that the postal service will be improved, as both of these gentlemen rose to distinction in the administration of this department under Hayes and Arthur. The appointments of the treasury are excellent, and as a rule President Harrison seems to select men of superior brains, experience and character for public office, whether foreign or domestic.

A BRAVE MAN

Among recent deaths is that of Philip H. Welch, a newspaper humorist of distinction, who died of cancer under circumstances as pathetic and painful as those that attended the last hours of General Grant. Welch was born in 1849. He was a hardware clerk and drummer until 1882, when he went to work upon the Rochester Post Express and began his joking in a column of short paragraphs. Then he went to the Philadelphia Call. In 1884 he joined the staff of the New York Sun. His witticisms have since been a brilliant feature of that paper. He was so fertile that the Sun says he got from $50 to $60 in that paper and doubled and often trebled that income by his outside work. He is described as a "good, gentle, courageous humorist" by the Springfield Republican, who suffered as much and behaved as patiently under suffering as General Grant or Emperor Frederick did. He had two operations for cancer performed; by one he lost the greater part of his tongue, and in the second, when the cancer appeared in his breast, the doctors dared not cut deep enough to remove it. He worked up to three days of his death, writing light, airy, clever [illegible] with such fertility that the [illegible] like that in [illegible]. He was as calm, patient and [illegible] under the death sentence of the doctors [illegible] from his sick bed he wrote to Sir Robert P[illegible]: "I am so near to the door that I can hear the creaking of the hinges." The sweet, patient purpose and gentle character of this dead journalist [illegible] upon all his professional friends of the Eastern press that they are striving to raise a fund for his widow and four young children. If there is any journalist in the country who feels so moved by the pathetic story of this gentle and good man's life that he desires to contribute to the fund for his destitute wife and children, he should send his contribution to Mr. Edward P. Clark of the editorial staff of the New York Evening Post. General Grant worked with heroic patience and endurance to the last to finish his book for the benefit of his wife, but his resolution was not more remarkable nor more admirable than that of this poor journalist, who submitted to two operations for cancer, and yet worked at his calling for the sake of his wife and children to within three days of his death. Grant, as a man of vast renown and public services, was sure that a grateful nation would not see his widow want, and the story of his struggle to the last to finish his book is not more pathetic than that of this gentle joker of the Sun, who struggled to make the world smile when the cold finger of death began to touch his lips. The "unnamed demigods" are many, and they are as worthy of honor and help as some who stand in the National Pantheon of historical saints, soldiers, heroes, patriots and martyrs. Of such a man is this gentle and good humorist we say in the words of Antony's farewell to his armor: "Bruised pieces, go; you have borne him well."

The Philadelphia Press says there are but seven surviving ladies of the White house, exclusive of the present incumbent and her immediate predecessor. These are Mrs. Polk, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnston, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Garfield and Mrs. McElroy. Why is it that Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, who but four short years ago was reveling in social and literary fame as mistress of the White house, is left out of this category? It is seldom that even one foolish book plunges an author into oblivion as complete as that which has overtaken the woman who did the honors of the presidential mansion during the first year of Cleveland's administration. Perhaps, however, an indulgent public would have tucked "George Eliot's Poetry and Other Studies" away upon its library shelves and forgiven the author, as the book was really well bound, had she not rushed rashly into a popular magazine with an alleged poem of two hundred lines. Even the fashionable ladies who had ordered Miss Cleveland's book in its most elegant and expensive binding could not pardon the caricature of the coming woman that she drew and called it "poetry." The general public could not reasonably be expected to be more generous than the fashionable dames who had admired her reception toilets, hence the undisturbed obscurity in which she dwells.

Colonel Shepard, the religio-political son-in-law of Vanderbilt, deplores the laxness of the Sunday laws that permits candy stores to keep open on the Lord's day. This gigantic evil, he says, "takes the pennies of children that would otherwise be dropped in missionary boxes." If this moralist, who is twelve times a millionaire through inheritance by his wife, feels so sad about the deprivation that the inhabitants of Boorioboola Gha suffer through the ungodly manner in which the children spend their pennies in the wicked, wicked candy stores, he might easily make up the deficit. He could easily let the world know of his magnanimity through the columns of the Mail and Express, get a vote of thanks from the foreign missionary board, and pose as a philanthropist as well as a crank.

The construction of the eight new cruisers for which provision was made by the fiftieth congress will increase the tonnage of the United States navy by about 15,000 tons. These vessels will not be the formidable-looking craft that are the boast of the British navy, but they will be constructed on the latest approved plans, will have a high rate of speed and heavy armament, and will be ships of war with which an enemy will not care to provoke battle needlessly. By the law authorizing their construction these vessels must attain the extraordinary speed of twenty knots an hour. With this requirement fully met and the heavy ordnance now in contemplation applied, it is easy to imagine that these fleet cruisers will be the terror of the seas to a [illegible] foe.

On the polling lists of Chicago for the municipal election held yesterday there were enrolled the names of 134,216 voters. Of these the American born numbered 72,230 and the foreign born 61,9[illegible]. Those of German birth numbered 24,[illegible]1, those of Irish birth 11,01[illegible]. Among the others the Bohemian voters numbered 2,614 and the English 3,903, leaving 16,[illegible] votes to be divided between Swedes, Canadians, Norwegians, Scotch, Danes, Poles, Hollanders, French, Italians, Hungarians, Welsh, Belgians and others.

LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDER.

INDEBTEDNESS OF CORPORATION—U. S. CIRCUIT COURT, DISTRICT OF OREGON.

Monday, March 18, 1889.

W. B. Powell v. The Oregonian Railway Company, No. 1,7[illegible]. Suit to collect the debt of a corporation from a stockholder.

(1) LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDER. A judgment against a corporation for the recovery of money is conclusive evidence in a suit against a stockholder for the collection of said judgment, of the existence of the corporation and its liability to plaintiff therein as thereby determined, and such judgment, whether given in an action ex contractu or ex delicto, is an indebtedness of the corporation for which a stockholder is liable to the amount due on his stock.

(2) STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS. In a suit to collect a judgment against an insolvent corporation from a stockholder thereof, the statute does not commence to run against the judgment creditor and in favor of the stockholder until the entry of the judgment.

DEADY J.

This suit is brought to collect from the defendant a judgment obtained by the plaintiff on April 8, 1887, against the Dayton, Sheridan & Grand Ronde Railway Company, for the sum of $5,600.

The defendant is sued as the holder of 1000 shares of stock of said corporation since February 27, 1881, on which there is due and unpaid the sum of $[illegible]. And it is alleged in the bill that these are the only shares of the stock on which anything is due.

The case was before the court on December 8, 1888 (36 Fed. Rep. 7[illegible]) on a demurrer to the bill, when it was held that a judgment obtained against an Oregon corporation for a tort, as well as one on contract, is an indebtedness of such corporation, within the purview of article 11, § 3, of the constitution of the state, for which a stockholder therein is liable thereunder to the amount of his unpaid stock.

In Land v. Cartwright (17 Or. [illegible]) it was held by the supreme court of the state that a creditor of a corporation cannot proceed against a stockholder to subject his unpaid balance on the latter's stock to the payment of his claim in the first instance. But he must exhaust his remedy at law against the corporation, when he may proceed in equity against all the delinquent stockholders, where the rights of all parties may be adjusted in one suit. See also Patterson v. Lynde, 106 U. S. 519; Pollard v. Bailey, 20 Wall., 520.

On the overruling of the demurrer, the defendant had leave to answer the bill. The answer is excepted to for impertinence. The exceptions include the greater part of the pleading.

In and by the matter excepted to the defendant alleges in effect (1) That the D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co. was dissolved and not in existence on January 29, 1887, when the action was commenced, in which the judgment sought to be enforced was obtained, and therefore the latter is void. (2) That the cause of such action was a claim for damages sounding in tort and not an indebtedness for which a stockholder may be liable to a creditor of the corporation; and (3) that the cause of suit is barred by the lapse of time.

In support of the averment that the judgment is void it is alleged in the answer that on January 8, 1879, the D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co., being insolvent, the Wallamet Valley Railway Company proposed to purchase its road and property, and that the stockholders of the former corporation at a meeting thereof held on February 15, 1879, accepted such proposition and authorized the directors thereof to dispose of the property accordingly, which they did on June 2, 1879, and said stockholders at said meeting also passed a resolution to the effect, that upon the transfer of its road and property being made to the W. V. Ry. Co., as aforesaid, this company do stand dissolved.

In the action in which this judgment was obtained the defence was made that the D. S. & G. R. Railway Company was dissolved and non-existent. But it appears that the trial court ruled otherwise, and on an appeal to the supreme court the ruling was affirmed. Powell vs. D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co., 16 Pac. Rep. 863. I am unable to see why this is not an adjudication of the question and one that is binding on this defendant. The general rule on this subject is that a stockholder is in privity with the corporation and can not collaterally question a judgment against it except for fraud or want of jurisdiction. Thomp. Liab. Stock, § 329. And although it may be that a valid judgment cannot be given against a dissolved or dead corporation any more than against a dead man, yet where the existence of the corporation is put in issue and contested and determined in favor of such existence, certainly the stockholder is bound by the result. It may be that where a judgment is obtained by default against an alleged corporation which is in fact defunct, and the same is sought to be enforced against a stockholder, he may contest the existence of the corporation as a defence to the suit.

It seems that this question has been decided otherwise, and I may say everywhere in New York; but in Stephens vs. Fox, 83 N. Y. 313, the court of appeals appears to have wheeled into line with the current of judicial decisions and holds that in a proceeding by a creditor of the corporation against a stockholder thereof a judgment against the corporation is competent evidence of the plaintiff's status as a creditor thereof and the amount of his claim. In other words the judgment not only concludes the corporation on the question of indebtedness to the creditor therein but also establishes the title of the creditor to succeed to the right of the corporation—namely, to have the balance due on the stock applied on his demand.

But as a matter of fact the D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co. does not appear ever to have been dissolved. True the stockholders declared that it should "stand dissolved" on a given contingency, which actually happened, namely, the transfer of its road to the W. V. Ry. Co. But the power of stockholders is limited by the corporation act to the mere authorizing a dissolution, and in and of themselves they have no such power. Section 3[illegible] (Comp. 1887) declares that from the first meeting of the directors of a corporation the powers vested therein are exercised by them except as otherwise specially provided. Section 3235 (Comp. 1887) provides that the stockholders may, by a majority vote of the stock, authorize the dissolution of the corporation. But they are not empowered to declare or otherwise accomplish such dissolution. The power of dissolution, when so authorized, like all other powers of the corporation not otherwise especially vested, belongs to the directors, by whom it must be exercised if at all. In this case the stockholders appear to have ignored the directors, and instead of authorizing them to dissolve the corporation, undertook to do it themselves. This act was a nullity, and the dissolution of the corporation, so far as appears, has not yet been even duly authorized, let alone accomplished.

In Wallamet Falls Co. v. Kittridge (5 Saw., 48) it was held by this court that a dissolution of a corporation must be authorized by the stockholders and declared by the directors, who may do so or not as they see proper.

It is admitted that this judgment was given in an action for damages sustained by the plaintiff on account of a certain waste suffered or permitted by the D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co. while it was the lessee of a warehouse belonging to the plaintiff and situate at Dayton on the line of its road. But what effect that fact has on the liability of the defendant to contribute what is due on its stock to the satisfaction of this judgment, as an indebtedness of the corporation, is not apparent.

The capital stock of a corporation is a trust fund for the payment or discharge of any liability which in the course of its business it may incur, either ex contractu or ex delicto. For instance, the D. S. & G. R. Ry. Co. might, on the happening of this waste, have made a call on its stockholders for the means to discharge such liability, and they would have been bound to respond to the extent of the amount due on their stock, if necessary.

The constitution of the state (Art. 11, § 3) declares that the stockholders of a corporation shall be liable for the indebtedness thereof, to the amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid and no more. And § 14 of the corporation act (Comp. 1887, § 3[illegible]) provides that the purchase of the stock of a corporation "subjects the purchaser to the payment of any unpaid balance due or to become due on such stock."

Under these circumstances the judgment obtained by the plaintiff against the defendant's corporation is, as was said in Stephens v. Fox (supra, 317), "as effectual to pass its title to the fund in question—the balance due on the defendant's stock—as a deed or any other form of transfer." In effect, the plaintiff is thereby subrogated to the right of the corporation to demand and have of and from the defendant, as the holder of its unpaid stock, the balance due thereon or sufficient thereof to satisfy his demand.

Indeed my present opinion is that the undertaking of a subscriber to or holder of the stock of an Oregon corporation is to pay the amount due on such stock when called for by the corporation, in the course of its business, including the discharge of its liabilities of whatever nature or kind and however arising, or in default of such call to contribute or pay the same on such liabilities in the suit of the person in whose favor they exist, after the same have been definitely established by a judgment in an action at law against the corporation.

And therefore on further investigation and reflection, I wish to qualify a remark in the opinion announced on the demurrer to the bill, to the effect that a claim against a corporation for damages sounding in tort is not an "indebtedness" of the same within the meaning of the term, as used in the constitution, but becomes so when merged in a judgment against the corporation, by adding that neither is a claim arising out of contract such an indebtedness until definitely established by a judgment against a corporation, and so claims arising either ex contractu or ex delicto are in this respect on the same footing. They are, from their inception, equally liabilities of the corporation, which when definitely established by judgments against the same are an "indebtedness" thereof, for the payment of which the unpaid stock of every stockholder is a trust fund.

And lastly—"Is this suit barred by lapse of time?"

The contention of counsel for defendant is that it is brought on the original claim for waste, and that is barred by the statute of the state in six years from the time the right of action thereon accrued. [illegible] and that more than six years elapsed before the commencement of the action—July [illegible], 1885—and the commencement of this suit—January 19, 1889.

But in my judgment this contention is founded on a total misapprehension of the nature of these proceedings. The claim for damage for the waste was made against the corporation and not the stockholder, and it is merged in the judgment obtained against the former, and no longer exists. This is a different suit between different parties. It is a suit against the stockholder to enforce the payment of said judgment. The liability of the stockholder is secondary—in the nature of a guaranty—and did not arise until the judgment was given against the corporation, and it was insolvent.

A suit on this judgment for any purpose for which it may be maintained, or serve as inducement, is not barred for ten years after its entry. This suit is in the nature of a creditor's bill to collect a judgment from the debtors of the judgment debtor.

No call appears to have been made on the defendant's stock by the corporation. There is therefore no pretense that the statute ever was put in motion against the creditor in that way, even if it could be, which is not conceded. Thomp. Liab. Stock, § 291.

In my judgment the statute did not commence to run against the liability of the shareholder to the creditor until the latter had exhausted his remedy against the corporation, which in this case, the same being insolvent, happened when the judgment was obtained against it. Thomp. Liab. Stock, § 293. Then and not before a cause of suit accrued to the plaintiff against the defendant to compel the payment of any balance due on its stock sufficient to satisfy his judgment. At the same time the statute commenced to run against such cause of suit, and would bar a suit thereon in six years. This is a case in which equity follows the law on that subject. Manning v. Hayden, 5 Saw., 379.

The action at law against the corporation was commenced in less than four years after the right accrued according to the decision of the supreme court in the case (16 Pac. Rep., 861) and this suit was commenced in fifteen months after judgment was given therein and in less than six months after it was affirmed on appeal. The claim cannot be considered stale.

In conclusion, a suit on this judgment is not barred for 10 years after its entry (Comp. 1887, § 5). But the liability which the plaintiff hereby seeks to enforce against the defendant arose in favor of the former and against the latter, on April 8, 1887, the date of the judgment against the corporation, and the right of suit thereon is not barred until six years thereafter. "An action upon a contract or liability, express or implied, except those mentioned in § 6 (a judicial record or a sealed instrument), must be commenced within six years after the cause of action shall have accrued." Comp. 1887, § 3, § 6.

The exceptions are allowed.

Mr. A. L. Frazer for the plaintiff.

Mr. Earl C. Bronaugh for the defendant.

The Multiplicity of Asteroids.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Another asteroid! is getting to be so common a telegram between men of science that it causes no longer a ripple of excitement. Very close on to 300 small planetary bodies are now known to exist between Mars and Jupiter. Each one has its own orbit and time, and these have been determined and charted with accuracy. Forty years ago there were but four of these known. The discovery of a fifth astonished the world of scientists—then came a sixth and seventh, and before long a baker's dozen were strung along the line. THE CRISIS IN COPPER.

The Deep Troubles of the French Syndicate.

Its Colossal Attempt to Corner the Metal—How the Comptoir d'Escompte Became Involved.

The Boston Herald of March 7th contained the following concerning the great copper crisis. We reprint it for the light it throws on our more recent dispatches:

Yesterday M. Denfert Rochereau committed suicide and within two hours the shares of the Comptoir d'Escompte, of which he was the manager, fell 300f on the bourse. After the bank of France, the Comptoir d'Escompte is the first financial [illegible] in Paris. It was established in 1848 to help small commercial people. When thirteen months ago the great copper syndicate was formed, it [illegible] Baron Rothschild formed the main [illegible] with which Secretan and his ring rolled [illegible] funds to carry on the corner. Almost before Denfert got in, 40,000,000f was lost, and the story of how it went and the collapse of the syndicate is of much interest.

Toward December 27, 1887, the syndicate had things its own way for awhile. It [illegible] efforts to [illegible] the price of copper proved very detrimental to consumers, notably [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] and the consumers struck a terrible blow at [illegible] trade. In [illegible] for [illegible] the syndicate agreed with [illegible] for 60,000 tons [illegible] [illegible] syndicate [illegible] This operation was transferred [illegible] [illegible]

EXHAUSTED THE RESOURCES OF DENFERT.

And he was obliged to abandon the direction and so far as he was pursuing in England and America, to M. Joubert of the Bank of Paris and of the Netherlands. Notwithstanding this, on Monday last another move was made for the formation of a society in London to open the English market with a stock of copper which has for some time been oppressing the Societe Industrielle des Metaux of Paris.

The lightning which struck yesterday has been expected a week, while as for Secretan and Denfert, they had been greatly worried since January 1 of last year. They were forced to form a banking society so as to raise money, and during February the vaults of that bank were completely empty.

Danger first arose in the augmentation of a stock which continually increased, while the English, desiring to bring about the fall of the French speculators, restricted their purchases in this way, and the commands of the British government were delayed, although it needed 11,000 tons of copper. Manufacturers also closed their works, and meanwhile mine owners, wishing to benefit by the high prices, increased their output, flooding Europe with copper ingots. The contract was that the syndicate should buy all the copper produced, and at a fixed minimum above which they had to keep prices to avoid a smash. Unhappily for the ring, Secretan and Denfert could not carry all the weight of such gigantic operations, could not resist the attacks made on them by the bears, and when Rothschild refused further aid, that settled it. To what extent they and the metal society were entangled is not yet known, but certainly big persons have been hit hard.

I asked an American banker his opinion. He said: "When the syndicate was formed, copper was worth £30 per ton, hardly remunerative to producers. Soon prices advanced to £85, but this rise was of short duration. The fact is, the ring, wishing to make a monopoly, had bitten off more than it could chew. Production continued, and the market was forced to go slowly, and presently ceased altogether. Well, the stock accumulated Monday was over 120,000 tons, and this means a loss of several hundred million francs."

Originally the syndicate was a society in which all the members were responsible to the extent of their whole fortunes, but recently it was changed into a limited concern, and the members were only responsible for as much as they put in. Not long ago the syndicate put out 4[illegible] francs of shares and as much of bonds, and that is how

THE PUBLIC GOT INVOLVED LATELY.

The losses in Paris are considerable. On one side, [illegible] was put into liquidation on Monday, and Rothschild, his father-in-law, has been obliged to pay 12,000,000 francs to save his name.

In December, 1888, the syndicate stock was worth 550 francs. By February it had declined to 500 francs. On March 1 it was 340 francs, the next day 60 francs, and yesterday it was but 190 francs. Many houses have suspended, and worse still is feared. Calamity threatens the Comptoir d'Escompte, whose shares were worth 1000 francs the 1st of February; yesterday they were 500 francs. The suicide of its manager may totally ruin it, as it is believed that more than 60,000,000 francs will be lost in this corner.

Such are the facts which have occasioned a disaster which will hereafter be known on the Paris bourse as the krach du cuivre. As new facts present themselves I may be able to give further details, but those I now cable the Herald are believed to be reliable.

Last Monday a contract was made modifying the original agreement, and the continuations were avoided. [illegible] to the Anglo-Spanish mines, while production was limited to the average probable consumption. The ring was doomed, however. Under the French code an attempted corner of this kind is a crime. Perhaps this is why some of the biggest capitalists stopped pouring in their money. Secretan would never have dared attempt such a corner without enormous capital back of him, and the truth is yet to be told of the whole affair. A French speculator said: "If Rothschild and Denfert had not gone into it it would never have been started. Had they refused their names the syndicate would have failed long ago."

Not very long ago a Paris broker went over to Switzerland and committed suicide because of losses in the copper ring. He was a bear, and had he lived a few weeks longer, instead of owing enormous sums he would have gained at least 15,000,000 francs by this crisis.

Wonderful Cure of Salt Rheum. Face, hands and arms covered. Hands useless for two years. Doctors said case was incurable. Cured by Cuticura.

I have had a most wonderful cure of salt rheum. For five years I have suffered with this disease. I had it on my face, arms and hands. I was unable to do anything whatever with my hands for over two years. I tried hundreds of remedies, and not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. I saw your advertisement and concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I tell you it was a good day for me. I used [illegible] CUTICURA and two cakes CUTICURA SOAP and two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and I am entirely cured. [illegible] think this letter [illegible] grateful may [illegible] for themselves.

W. R. BROOKS, [illegible] Providence R. I.

A minister and his little boy cured of obstinate Skin disease by the Cuticura Remedies. Praises them everywhere, in the pulpit, home and in the street.

For about thirteen years I have been troubled with eczema or some other cutaneous disease which all remedies failed to cure. Hearing of the CUTICURA REMEDIES I resolved to give them a trial, and purchased one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA and one cake CUTICURA SOAP. I followed the directions carefully, and it affords me much pleasure to say that before using two boxes of the CUTICURA, four cakes of CUTICURA SOAP and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT I was entirely cured.

In addition to my own case, my baby boy, then about five months old, was suffering with what I supposed to be the same disease as mine, to such an extent that his head was coated over with a solid scab, from which there was a constant flow of pus, which was sickening to look upon, besides two large tumor-like kernels on the back of his head. Thanks to your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES his scalp is perfectly well and the kernels have been scattered, so that there is only one little place by his left ear, and that is healing nicely. Instead of a scab, he has a nice coat of hair, much better than that which was destroyed by the disease. I would that the whole world of sufferers from skin diseases knew of the value of your CUTICURA REMEDIES as I do.

The CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT are worth ten times the price at which they are sold. I have never used any other toilet soap in my family since the first cake of your CUTICURA SOAP. I [illegible] it well of and recommend CUTICURA REMEDIES to every sufferer. I have spoken of it, and [illegible] from the pulpit, in hopes [illegible]. Praying that you may [illegible] the same amount of good [illegible] I remain, yours [illegible]

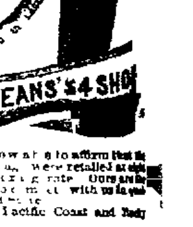
THE MARCH OF PROGRESS!

OUR LATEST IMPROVEMENTS!

"Competition is the Life of Trade," and if you have not seen our latest improved goods you cannot imagine how lively trade is or how hard our competitors have to work to keep within sight of us. Ask your retailers for the James Means $3 Shoe, or the James Means $4 Shoe, according to your needs.

Positively none genuine unless having our name and price stamped plainly on the soles. Your retailer will supply you with shoes so stamped if you insist upon his doing so; if you do not insist, some retailers will coax you into buying inferior shoes upon which they make a larger profit.

MADE ALSO IN BUTTON & CONGRESS
JAMES MEANS' $3 SHOE
UNEXCELLED IN STYLE UNEQUALLED IN DURABILITY AND PERFECTION OF FIT.
JAMES MEANS' SEAMLESS $3 SHOE



JAMES MEANS' $4 SHOE
CANNOT FAIL TO SATISFY THE MOST FASTIDIOUS
JAMES MEANS' $4 SHOE

Such has been the recent progress in our branch of industry that we are now able to affirm that the James Means $4 Shoe is in every respect equal to the shoes which only a few years ago were retailed at eight or ten dollars. If you will try on a pair you will be convinced that we do not exaggerate. Ours are the original $3 and $4 shoes, and those who imitate our system of business are unable to compete with us in quality of factory products. In our lines we are the largest manufacturers in the United States.

[illegible] who recently visited the shoe retailers of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain Region writes from there as follows:

"I am more than satisfied with the results of my trip. I have [illegible] succeeded in placing our full lines in the hands of [illegible] dealers in every point I have visited. He [illegible] this is a splendid region for us to sell shoes in, because most of the retailers are charging their customers at retail about double the price which the shoes have cost at wholesale. The consequence is that the people who wear shoes are paying six or seven dollars a pair for shoes which are not worth as much as our JAMES MEANS $3 and $4 SHOES. Our shoes with their very low retail prices stamped on the soles of every pair are breaking down the high prices which have hitherto ruled in this region, and when a retailer puts a full line of our goods in his stock they at once begin to go off like hot cakes, so great is the demand for them."

Now, kind reader, just stop and consider what the above means for you. If you keep on buying shoes bearing no manufacturer's name or fixed retail price stamped on the soles, you cannot tell what you are getting, and your retailer may make you pay double what your shoes are worth. Now, can you afford to do this while we are protecting you by stamping our name and the fixed retail price upon the soles of our shoes before they leave our factory, so that you cannot be made to pay more for your shoes than they are worth?

Shoes from our celebrated factory are sold by wide-awake retailers in all parts of the country. We will place them easily within your reach in any State or Territory if you will invest one cent in a postal card and write to us.

A Cough is Quickly Cured

By taking Mother Cary's (Eucalyptus) Gum Tree Cough Syrup. It does not affect the stomach or bind the bowels. Skidmore & Co. agents, 151 First street, Portland, Or.

Through Pullman sleepers and dining cars; also second-class sleepers through to the East via Northern Pacific Railroad. Office, No. 121 First St., corner Washington.

Now is the Time

To purify your blood and fortify your system against the debilitating effects of spring weather. At no other season is the bitter taste in the mouth more prominent, the breath so offensive, the drowsy dizziness so frequent, or that extreme tired feeling so prevalent. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to build up the system, purify the blood, cure biliousness and headache, overcome that tired feeling and create a good appetite. Try it this spring.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla is a standard remedy in this 'Wild West,' and sells well from the source of the Willamette to the mouth of the Columbia." FRED. BEAL, 16th and E streets, Portland, Or. The oldest druggist in Oregon.

The peculiar curative power of Hood's Sarsaparilla is shown by the many remarkable cures it accomplishes where others fail.

"I wish to enroll my name as one of those who have derived health from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For many years I have taken it, especially in the early spring, when I am troubled with dizziness, dullness, unpleasant taste in my mouth in the morning. It removes this bad taste, relieves my headache and makes me feel greatly refreshed. The two bottles I have used this spring have been worth a dollar a dose. I advise all my friends to take it." JOHN BINNS, 663 43d street, town of Lake, Chicago, Ill.

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

PERD'S HILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1888—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: One of my children was troubled with rheumatism and boils for about two years. We gave her various kinds of medicine, but without profit, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the diseases all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty and healthy girl twelve years old. Another child has just become afflicted in the same way, and I am using the S. S. S. and anticipate a prompt and permanent cure. N. O. WASGOSKE.

PECK HILL, Mo., July 7, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust, hearty child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully, H. T. SHOBE.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In 1886 I contracted blood poison, and at once sought a physician, who treated me for several months. By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., where his course of treatment was carefully observed. I recovered, so I thought, but the next spring pimples began to appear on my face and body. These gradually increased to sores and running ulcers. I was advised to try S. S. S., and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve, slowly at first, but more rapidly afterwards, and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed, and my system free from taint, and I owe my present condition—a perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have suffered as I have may reap the same benefit. HARDY E. BURT, 34 West Ninth St.

HOMER, LA., May 2, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: About two years ago my general health gave way entirely. I was so debilitated that I almost despaired of ever feeling well again. All that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief. Friends insisted that I should give S. S. S. a fair trial, although I thought it would be throwing away money. After taking a thorough course my health and strength returned, and I must say that S. S. S. alone cured me, as I discarded all others while using it. As a tonic I can most heartily recommend it; for general debility, it certainly is a specific. W. F. BRIDGES, J. P.

HOMER, LA.—I know Mr. W. F. Bridges, and will say that his statement is correct. JOSEPH SHELTON, Druggist.

DIFFERENT CASES IN COURT.

The Morin-Cody Shooting Affair—Bourne's Examination Postponed.

William Darragh Gets One Year—Frank Jachetta—Reduction of Rates—Demurs to the Indictment.

William Darragh, who has respectable connections at The Dalles, was arraigned in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of furnishing whisky to an Indian at that place. He entered a plea of guilty, and would probably have escaped with a light fine if he had kept still, but when the court told him that he could make a statement if he desired, he gave himself away and acknowledged that he had been convicted of the same offense a little over a year ago, and sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. As this is the fourth time that Darragh has been up for the same offense the court sentenced him to pay a fine of $1 and [illegible] imprisonment in the state penitentiary for one year. Darragh is an unfortunate young man, [illegible] by a horse fall [illegible] to the morphine habit. He will probably be better off in the penitentiary [illegible].

[illegible]

The day was taken up in [illegible] yesterday [illegible]

[illegible]

Yesterday was the [illegible] examination [illegible] charged with [illegible] with deadly weapon [illegible] Cody.

When the case of [illegible] was called in the police court yesterday afternoon, counsel for the defendant stated that in view of the fact that all of his witnesses were not in readiness, his client would waive examination. As a further reason for taking this step, he [illegible] that an unanimous [illegible] against the defendant, that was not [illegible] his case. "While we believe that we will be able to establish the entire innocence of the defendant," continued counsel, "we prefer to have the case taken before the grand jury at this time."

Judge [illegible] Cody to answer, and left the bail at the figure it now stands, $2500.

The case against Joseph Morin was then called, but the state, in anticipation of an examination in the case of Cody, which would have occupied the greater part of the afternoon, was not prepared to proceed with the hearing and a continuance was granted until this afternoon.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Mrs. Wong [illegible] appeared in Justice Tuttle's court late yesterday afternoon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Ah Lum, on a charge of attempting a felonious assault on her. These are the same parties who appeared in Justice Phelan's court earlier in the day as defendant and plaintiff respectively. Mrs. Wing, who was the defendant in the other case, alleges that [illegible] came to her house which is situated on Second and [illegible] streets, and attempted to assault her. Failing in his purpose, Lum betook himself off to the justice court and had Mrs. Sing arrested on a charge of larceny from the person of $10. The warrant will be served as soon as Lum can be found.

POLICE COURT.

John Johnson, W. H. Farmer, Tom Flannigan and Joseph Garvin, simple drunks, fined $2 each; T. Kerrey, same, $5. James Owens, vagrancy, sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment. Frank Williams, charged with the same offense, pleaded not guilty, and will have a hearing this afternoon. Mike Kelly, charged with trespass by sleeping in a box car of the O. R. & N. Co., was fined $10.

The case of William Brown, charged with stabbing John Buckley, was continued indefinitely to await the outcome of his victim's injuries.

NEW SUITS.

A. L. Frazer, administrator of the estate of Rhoda A. Palmer, is suing W[illegible] and the Portland Trust Company in the state circuit court for possession of about 340 acres of land in this county.

Alexander B. Hamilton sued Margaret A. Stevens et al. for [illegible] property in this city.

A marriage license was granted yesterday for Mark W. [illegible] and Catherine McGuire.

WANTS TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT.

Judge Stearns yesterday heard the argument in the application of counsel for Charles Perkins, indicted for feloniously assaulting Gertie Keppel, to set aside the indictment because it does not contain the names of all the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury when that body was investigating the case. Perkins testified in his own behalf, and the motion was made for the reason that his own name is not on the list. Judge Stearns has the matter under advisement.

HE WANTED A JURY TRIAL.

C. W. Peck was tried by a jury in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday on a charge of stealing milk cans and coolers from L. A. Moorehouse. The defendant would have fared a great deal better by simply standing trial before the court instead of demanding a jury. It did not take the six men long to return a verdict of guilty after retiring, and Justice Tuttle fined Peck $40 and costs. The costs will amount to a larger figure than the fine. It comes high to be tried by a jury.

JACHETTA WANTS TO BE HEARD.

Frank Jachetta, the Italian charged with the murder of Charley Olsen, hopes that the grand jury will take up his case at once and investigate it. His friends are likewise anxious for an early investigation. They are confident that Jachetta will be able to prove that the killing was done in self-defense, and this fact, taken in connection with his previous peaceful character, they think, will help out his case.

THE BRIDGE AND FERRY RATES.

At 10 o'clock this morning the county commissioners will hear the application of the citizens of East Portland for a reduction of the maximum rates of toll on the Stark street ferry and the Morrison street bridge. The East Portlanders maintain that the rates are exorbitant, while the bridge and ferry companies hold a different opinion.

HE WAS HELD TO ANSWER.

Deputy United States Marshal Furnish yesterday brought down from Pendleton Narcisse Thibot, held to answer on a charge of furnishing liquor to an Indian who was placed in the county jail to await trial in the United States district court.

YESTERDAY'S DOCKET.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

United States vs. William Darragh, charged with selling liquor to Indians, plea of guilty, sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and serve 1 year in the state penitentiary.

Robert Burkhardt, of Switzerland, admitted to citizenship.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT NO. 1.

William Johnson & Son vs. McLaughlin, Gay & Browning, verdict for $229.06 for plaintiff; defendant allowed ten days to move for a new trial.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT NO. 2.

F. K. Arnold vs. the Oregon Marble & Lime Company, receiver authorized to loan $1000.

Margaret Beach vs. Warren Beach; motion to modify decree heretofore made denied.

Ward S. Stevens and George C. Sears vs. E. L. Reed; order citing defendant to appear and show cause dismissed.

MORRIS IS DETERMINED TO DIE.

He Was Nearly Dead When Found Dangling at the End of a Blanket Strip Monday Night.

John Morris, an ex-convict, who is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing for trying to break open the safe in the Theater Royal saloon, attempted to commit suicide Monday night. Dan Kennedy, one of his cell mates, being aroused from sleep by the creaking of a bunk near by, saw Morris dangling at the end of an improvised rope which was thrown around the upper cross bar of the door and attached to the lower one. Kennedy yelled at the top of his voice and [illegible] Jailer Dougherty, who after twenty minutes' hard work succeeded in restoring Morris to consciousness. Then he placed the would-be suicide in irons.

Morris occupied a cell in the north wing of the jail. His rope was his blanket, cut and twisted. When he had fastened the knot securely under his ear he stepped off the bunk.

Morris is determined to commit suicide rather than serve another term in the state prison. Yesterday [illegible] another rope, made from a piece of blanket, was found under his bunk, whereupon Jailer Dougherty put him in the main corridor with the other prisoners, and keeps a lookout for Morris.

HIS WOUNDS PROVED FATAL.

The Body of a Chinese Cook Cut With an Ax at Kelso, W. T., Sent to This City.

In THE OREGONIAN of last Sunday appeared the following item regarding the assault on a Chinaman by an enraged father with whose daughter the Chinaman had taken improper liberties:

W. S. Thompson, living near [illegible] Dixon's logging camp, walked into Kelso, W. T., Wednesday and surrendered himself [illegible] cook at Dixon's camp had been taking liberties with Thompson's children Tuesday, while Thompson was in town. On his return his wife informed him of what the Chinaman had done. Thompson at once went to the cabin where the Chinaman was at work and attacked him with an ax. The Chinaman defended himself with a knife, but Thompson quickly overpowered him and gave him a slash that cut through four ribs and laid his chest open, and he will certainly die, if not dead already. Public sentiment is with Thompson, on account of the provocation for the deed.

The prediction then made regarding the probable fatality of the Chinaman's injuries has proved true, for the body of the dead Chinaman was yesterday received at the undertaking establishment of DeLin & Holman. The body was brought via the Northern Pacific road and was accompanied by a physician's certificate, which stated that the deceased came to his death by violence. The Chinaman's name is Chin Sly Lin. He was about 35 years of age and has been in this country a little over two years. A large gash in the left side of the body shows where the blow was struck in that encounter.

Friends of the dead man have taken charge of the remains and will inter them [illegible] this afternoon.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK.

They Enter the Office of the Portland Soda Works, Open the Safe and Carry Off About $75

Burglars entered the office of the Portland Soda Works at the corner of Fifth and [illegible] streets early [illegible] yesterday morning and blew up the safe. All the money in the cash box, about $75, was taken, [illegible]

[illegible] morning about [illegible] A. R. Townsend, one of the [illegible] soda works, [illegible] was surprised [illegible] other valuable papers [illegible] about [illegible] inside and saw that the safe was blown open and [illegible].

The burglars entered the building through the [illegible] to pry the door open with a [illegible] found open, and work on the safe was begun without any further obstacle. All the contents [illegible] two charges were placed in the [illegible] valuable papers [illegible]

Before making an attack on the safe, the burglars [illegible] saw, chisel and a few other tools [illegible] stole from the [illegible] near the safe by the [illegible].

[illegible] about [illegible] o'clock. A [illegible] near the soda works [illegible] of the building [illegible] he was [illegible] to his home from [illegible] about half past [illegible] that he had retired to his room, he heard a loud explosion in the direction of the soda works, but thinking that perhaps some of the men connected with the establishment were at work, he paid no attention to it.

It is not very likely that the safe blowers will be apprehended, unless they should repeat their operations, and Messrs. Northrup & [illegible], the proprietors of the soda works, are left with no further consolation than the fact that the entire works were not carried away.

SIX DAYS' GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE.

Portland to Have a Visitation of the Prevalent Fever for Racing

For the six days beginning to-morrow night Portland will be in the throes of a six days go-as-you-please championship race, which will take place at the Mechanics' Pavilion. The start will will be made at 10 o'clock to-morrow night and the time set for the finish is 10 o'clock next Wednesday night.

The affair is under the management of C. D. Rudolfsen, of New York, and J. J. Haggerty, of San Francisco. Mr. Haggerty said yesterday that he expected about twenty men to start. Among those who have entered are William Black, Philadelphia; C. E. Beaver, C. E. Johnson, Kansas City; C. D. Campana, New York; James Kelly, Buffalo, N. Y.; John Pollard, San Francisco; David Haan, Ed Morgan, and Charles Smith, Portland; James Bailey, Montreal; Jack Vincent, Manchester, England; P. M. Ross, Aberdeen, Scotland; F. L. Hogarth, Boston; Smith Pryor, Denver; Joe Wilson, Chicago; Fred Knapp, Los Angeles; C. M. Cunningham, Walla Walla; Henry Sloan, St. Louis; Ben Moore, Pittsburg; Henry Phillips, Indianapolis; Wm. Clinger.

Campana is expected here to-morrow. He is 57 years old and is familiarly known as "Old Sport." He took part in the recent big races in New York and was a good attraction.

The race will be run under the Police Gazette rules, 50 per cent. of the gross gate receipts being divided among the winners. No one will be entitled to a share in the gate receipts unless he covers 450 miles during the race. This feat was accomplished by only one man in the recent San Francisco contest. All contestants must cover 100 miles the first twenty-four hours or be barred from continuance in the race.

In addition to the gate money, $1500 will be given [illegible] for [illegible] record [illegible] record, $150; the 48-hour record, $100; the 24-hour record, $75; the 12-hour record, $50. For making the best hour record, for beating the record for one hour and for making the fastest mile during the race, prizes of $25 are offered.

Men were engaged yesterday preparing the track. It will be eleven laps to the mile, and will be made of the best loam, tan bark and sawdust.

THE NEW PORTLAND HOSPITAL.

A Site Purchased, and Work on the Building Will Be Commenced by May 1.

The deed for the site of the new Portland hospital, to be erected in East Portland, was signed yesterday. This structure, which will be the largest of its kind in the city, is to be built on a Seven-and-a-half-acre tract located between the base line road and the motor line and due east of the cemetery. The location is well suited for hospital purposes, being high, commanding and well drained.

The trustees of the hospital have had this tract of land in view for some time, although the formal transfer was not made until yesterday. The former owner of the land, James Abraham, deeded it to the trustees on special terms, whereby he virtually donated $10,000 to the hospital.

Dr. E. P. Fraser stated to a reporter yesterday that work on the new building will begin about the 1st of May and that by the 1st of November the hospital is expected to be ready for occupancy. It is not yet decided whether the building will be of brick or of wood. If built of brick, the cost is estimated at $120,000 and if of wood the cost will be about half of that amount. The hospital will be built according to the plans drawn about a year ago.

The tract of land owned by the hospital in South Portland, near the Children's Home, has been placed on the market, and, if sold, the proceeds will be merged into the building fund. It was the original intention of the trustees to build the hospital on this ground, but the tract just bought was thought to be more desirable.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees April 1, when all arrangements for the building of the hospital will be definitely settled. Bids will be opened immediately thereafter, and work will be commenced by the 1st of May, if not sooner.

THE QUARANTINED COLUMBIA

A Dispatch Received Denying the Report That There Is Smallpox on Board.

The appended dispatch was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. W. Staver, from Rev. Alfred Kummer, Dr. George H. Chance, and Mr. Smith, of Portland, who were passengers:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19, 1889.

We arrived Saturday, but were not allowed to embark, a child having what was supposed to be varioloid. It was really only the effects of vaccination. The child was removed and the steamer hauled into the bay. Our accommodations are first class. We expect to be released by Friday. All on board are well and have no complaint to make.

The above is published to assure those who have friends on board the Columbia that there is no danger of their contracting [illegible] disease.

If, as the dispatch says, there is no small pox on board the steamer, it [illegible] that the San Francisco health officers should keep the vessel quarantined, as the expense to the O. R. & N. Company is nearly $400 per day for every day the Columbia is tied up.

The company intended transferring the passengers of the Columbia to another vessel Monday [illegible] after fumigating the steamer, load her and send her out, but to this arrangement the passengers [illegible] objected. On board the steamer the passengers have every accommodation that could be secured, while if they were transferred to some less commodious vessel they would not fare so well. As the situation now stands the O. R. & N. Co. will make every effort to dock its steamer which will be the means of shortening the passengers' time in quarantine.

OUR CABLE RAILROAD.

The Company About to Decide Whether to Use Electricity or Steam for Operating Purposes.

The question which the Portland Cable Road Company is now called upon to decide is what kind of power they shall use to operate their road. The plans are for steam power but the Willamette Falls Electric Company wish to supply it by electric motors and the officers of the two companies are to consult in regard to the matter.

If the electric men can furnish assurances that they can satisfactorily supply power and will give bonds to have the power ready when it is required, [illegible] will probably [illegible] a contract with them. This [illegible] changes in the power [illegible] contract for the building at once.

The company are now in earnest about [illegible] the cable road and are not inclined to let the grass grow under their feet.

If you want a handsome spring [illegible] Steinbach's. They are selling them from $5 upwards.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

Second and Most Successful Production of "The Mountebank."

The Celebrated Violinist, M. Ovide Musin, and His Grand Concert Company at New Park Next Week.

Last night the New Park theater was filled to its utmost capacity by an audience made up of the most fashionable and representative of our people, all evidently eager to enjoy the inimitable delineation of "The Mountebank" by the great artist Frederick Warde.

Long before the hour for lifting the curtain the house began to fill up, and when the late arrived there was little room left for the late-comer.

It would be difficult to add to what has been already said about Mr. Warde's masterly impersonation [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Warde [illegible]

To-night, for the only time, "Damon and Pythias."

MUSIN.

The music lovers of Portland [illegible] A [illegible] Monday and Tuesday evenings [illegible]

Whitney Mockridge, the [illegible] tenor, is also one of [illegible]

Mr. Schonert, the pianist, is spoken of as one of the most accomplished pianists of the day and wherever he has played, has been applauded [illegible].

With such a splendid artistic entourage M. Musin will return to Portland under the most favorable auspices and the New Park should be filled with the lovers of fine music artistically interpreted.

TANNER CREEK SEWER EXTENSION.

The Council Considering the Project—Mr. Kamm's Views on the Subject.

The council have under consideration the building of an extension of the Tanner creek sewer from its present terminus to the south side of the City Park on Jefferson street. The extension runs for some distance through Mr. Jacob Kamm's property, and City Attorney Adams, by direction of the council, waited upon Mr. Kamm to obtain his consent to the construction of the sewer. He did not seem inclined to throw any obstacle in the way of the work, as it would probably only benefit his property, but he said he would take time to think the matter over. He was of opinion that such a work was hardly necessary at present, as the population of the district it was to drain was, he thought, hardly sufficient to require it.

Another thing which he thought rendered the immediate construction of the sewer inadvisable is the present scarcity of brick and their high price. He had intended to build at the corner of First and Washington this season, but had about abandoned the idea on this account. It is not known how the ideas of the council will fange with those of Mr. Kamm, but the matter will probably be discussed at the meeting of the council this evening.

Owing to the extent and widely diversified nature of Mr. Kamm's city property, the city attorney had also to interview him in regard to the building of the proposed city hall. Mr. Kamm owns property on Fourth street opposite the site selected for that building on the south plaza block, and it was desired to know if he would have any objections to the erection of the building.

Some years since it was proposed to build a city hall there and the property owners in the vicinity made objections. Mr. Kamm said it would be necessary for him to consult with his neighbors there before he could give an answer. As the city intends to erect a handsome building which will be an ornament to the town it is not supposed any objection will be made, and it is not thought that if such objections are made they will prove a serious obstruction.

REPAIRING DAMAGED STREETS.

A Really Good Material for Improving Streets Yet To Be Found

The Multnomah Street Railway Company are repairing the streets along and within their tracks by putting in crushed rock and covering it with the scrapings of the streets. This has been found to be about as good a way of repairing the injuries done by the horses and extra horses on the hill as anything yet tried. The whole matter of street improvement is yet an unsolved conundrum in this city. The macadam works very well where the travel is light, but is not of much account on streets where there is much heavy teaming. North Seventh street shows this. Since the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company opened a roadway on Seventh street there has been a great deal of heavy travel there and a great deal of clay from cellars being dug has been hauled over that street and the usual liberal allowance of the clay from passing loads scattered over it. This clay, when kneaded into a stiff paste by passing wheels, sticks to them and picks up the macadam, which is carried along till a bridge is reached, where it is deposited in windrows, leaving a badly demoralized and in some places almost totally destroyed street.

The only thing that stands the wear and tear of heavy traffic is the Belgian block pavement, and that through the labors of plumbers, gas and water pipe layers and others, who tear it up and put it down in a careless manner, soon becomes full of hills and hollows, and is always noisy. The bituminous rock tried on Washington street is satisfactory in some respects, but has failed in spots, owing, it is claimed, to the imperfect manner in which it was laid. Perhaps some better style of pavement may be devised, and the concrete one talked of some time since may fill the bill. At all events it is worthy of trial.

PROPER PRECAUTIONS WERE TAKEN.

What the City Physician Has to Say About People Who Find Fault.

"Complaint has been made that the city authorities are lax in enforcing rigid quarantine regulations in the cases of the last two patients who were removed to the smallpox hospital some time ago." These words were addressed to City Physician Dr. Meyer by a reporter yesterday. "Is there any truth in this statement?" asked the reporter.

"No, there is not," replied Dr. Meyer. "There are some people who growl all the time, and it is useless to try to satisfy everybody in this world. One of the cases referred to is that of a little boy in South Portland. He was taken to the hospital and is now almost well enough to leave. That house was quarantined two weeks, all that was necessary in that case.

"The other case referred to by the complaining party is probably that in a house in the lower end of town. There was a very light case of varioloid at the house, and the patient was taken to the smallpox hospital also. This was such a very mild case that we did not deem it necessary to quarantine the house at all. It was thoroughly fumigated and disinfected.

"It is singular that some people should try to dictate to the city authorities. The city authorities have had sufficient experience with smallpox to know what precautions to take against the spread of the disease. They certainly have managed affairs successfully so far, and I think that in a light case of varioloid they ought to be left to their own judgment as to what precautions to take. If we had quarantined these houses for six months, as some would have us do, and feed perhaps a dozen or two people at the city's expense, there would be a howl raised about needless extravagance.

"Some complain because smallpox costs the city too much money and others because the city does not go to more expense. No, I do not think that there has been any recklessness or wanton neglect in the matter of quarantining houses from which smallpox patients have been removed, and the city authorities will in all probability see that all reasonable precautions are taken in all cases."

CATCHING SEALS AND SEA LIONS.

Captain Beyton's Experience at the Mouth of the Columbia and in Tillamook Bay.

[illegible]

"I found the sea lions [illegible] seals [illegible] I have ever seen. They were as I have already said, very [illegible] with my [illegible] and no trouble in [illegible] them.

"The sea lions [illegible] the roughest [illegible] on the face of the earth. It took me eight hours to travel seven miles, but [illegible] on reaching the rock well repaid me for my trouble. The rock was fairly alive with sea lions, both large and small. [illegible] I was [illegible] starting for home that I would have to abandon them. The storm that was raging had blown so many trees across the trail that it was impassable for pack horses. The [illegible] on the rock I could have caught all the sea lions I wanted, but I had no use for more than four.

"I also spent a day on Sand island in quest of a few specimens of the seal. I found an abundance of them and took two, all I wanted, with very little trouble, although they were very wild, having been shot at so many times by pass-[illegible] trees. I have been advised by the fishermen to wait until the salmon canning season begins, when any numbers of seals will be caught in the fish nets which I can purchase at a comparatively low figure. My intention is to wait for a few weeks to let the angry Pacific quiet down a little, when I will be able to get what I want. In a couple of days I will have two cougars ready to ship. After shipping my animals East and giving my exhibition at Seattle I will depart for the East, where I have dates to give exhibitions."

As the reporter was taking his leave the captain called him back and said: "While on my way to Tillamook rock I stopped at a ranch at the mouth of Elk creek, at which place my host showed me two life preservers that had drifted ashore. On one was painted 'Earl Granville, St. Johns, New Brunswick,' and on the other '[illegible], Newall, [illegible].' It is a mystery to me and to others to whom I spoke where the life preservers came from, unless it be that the two ships have been wrecked and their crews have gone in a body to Davy Jones's locker."

THAT DIVINING ROD ONCE MORE.

A Correspondent Who is a Firm Believer in the Power of the "Switch."

A reader of THE OREGONIAN, who "believes its aim to be the diffusion of knowledge as well as news," writes from Palouse City to protest against the disbelief in the wonderful powers of the divining rod, as expressed by this paper. He is a firm believer in those wonderful powers, and claims to be able to produce positive proof of the authenticity of the operation of those powers in the hands of a certain person he knows of, and concludes as follows:

"I firmly believe that locating underground veins of water will, in the near future, be reduced to a science, and scientific instruments will be used that will indicate the probable depth, velocity and volume or magnitude of the veins."

[When it is remembered that the divining rod has been in use since the early periods of history and has gradually fallen into disuse as knowledge has increased in the world, it is hardly probable that it will develop any new features in the future. The fact is there is a trick in the manipulation of this forked hazel twig which any one can master in a few minutes, and there are half a dozen men in the reporters' room of this paper in whose hands the rod will point downward whenever required, impelled by a force sufficient to break the twigs. In regard to this and all other superstitions it will be well for believers to consult their common sense and conclude, when they see a thousand intelligent men disbelieve in such things to one who believes in them, that the majority are probably right. This has not been the case in some instances with new discoveries, but with old time superstitions like the divining rod, witches, ghosts, etc., it will be found the correct thing every time.]

IN ALASKA THIS SEASON

Juneau, Alaska, is the point selected by Baron E. de Groff, of Sitka, for the establishment of a photograph business.

The demands of tourists and natives for work in this line has been so poorly supplied, heretofore, that a first class establishment is a boon to the whole territory.

Mr. E. C. Towne, who is agent for Baron de Groff's famous Alaska scenes looks forward to largely increased sales this season. Oregon and Alaska are places of interest to tourists from all parts of the globe and are being advertised on a small scale by the distribution of photographs of their grand scenery.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
